Gov. DiSalle's Swan Song To Be Heard Today

GOP-Controlled State Assembly To Recess After Routine Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —The Republican-led 105th General Assembly began its 1963 session Monday and plans to wind up a short week's work today by hearing Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's swan-song State-of-the-State message.

The first day's housekeeping session was strictly routine. Everything happened that was supposed to happen.

There was no advance indication of the content of DiSalle's speech preparatory to turning over the reins of government to his Republican successor, James A. Rhodes. For the first time in four years of addressing the legislature, DiSalle will speak without a prepared text.

In addition to the formal election of legislative leaders chosen earlier in party caucuses, the General Assembly:

—Pushed through resolutions employing the help needed to run the legislative session.

—Pushed practically halfway to enactment an emergency bill making hundreds of technical changes in state laws needed to clean up errors. The bill, first to be introduced, was scheduled for House passage today and similar quick treatment in the Senate.

Sen. Charles Stanley Mechem, Nelsonville Republican, took his oath for a fifth term as Senate majority leader as he entered his 20th year as a member of the Senate. He is serving his last term because his senatorial district was abolished as a result of the 1960 census.

Across the Statehouse on the "House side," Rep. Roger Cloud, Logan County Republican, was taking his oath for a record fourth term as House speaker.

Senate minority leader, again, is Sen. Frank W. King, Toledo Democrat, and Thomas E. Bateman of Columbus was elected to his 15th two-year term in the last 36 years as Senate clerk.

Rep. Robert E. Reckman of Cincinnati was sworn in as majority floor leader in the House while Rep. A. G. Lancione, Bellaire Democrat, became minority floor leader. Continuing as clerk is former Rep. Carl Guess of Carroll County.

In addition to the leaders, Supreme Court Judge Paul M. Herbert swore in seven newcomers to the Senate plus two who returned to that body after brief absences. Supreme Court Judge C. William O'Neill did the honors in the House.

Mechem told the senators: "There is a tremendous obligation before us at this time . . . We are obligated to uphold the majesty of the people." Then, with a familiar twinkle in his eye, he added: "Just because this is my last two years, don't any of you fellows get any ideas. . . you elected me boss and I'm going to be boss."

Slayton Named Top Spaceman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civilian space agency, which grounded Air Force Maj. Donald K. Slayton because of heart trouble has made him its "chief astronaut," it was learned today.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration told a reporter Slayton, 38, is helping nine new space pilots learn the ropes.

Slayton also hands out certain assignments to the other six members of the original Project Mercury astronauts, keeps records and handles other administrative tasks, the spokesman said.

Slayton, a rangy, athletic looking Air Force pilot, was grounded last July because of a heart difficulty. He was granted a one-year waiver that will run until Nov. 20 and will be checked periodically by flight surgeons.

News Union Shuns Judges, Urges U.S. Antitrust Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking printers have boycotted, at least temporarily, a study by three jurists of the city's newspaper black-out. The printers have asked the U.S. attorney general to probe what they call possible antitrust law violations by the publishers.

The board of jurists invited all parties in the strike to attend a session today to discuss procedure and the issues of the dispute.

A board spokesman said telegrams of invitation were sent to the publishers and to all craft unions refusing to cross picket lines set up by the printers.

The printers' chief negotiator, striking Local 6 of the AFL-CIO

Bertram A. Powers, president of International Typographical Union, also was sent a telegram. He said he would not, at least for the time being, attend meetings of the so-called "board of public accountability."

The board, presided over by Judge Harold R. Medina of the U.S. Court of Appeals, was appointed Sunday by U.S. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

One of the board's main purposes, as spelled out by the appointing officials, is to study the 32-day newspaper shutdown to determine if the public's interests "are being given due account."

In Cleveland, Ohio, the mayor called for a meeting today between publishers and two striking unions to try to bring light to a 40-day blackout of the two daily newspapers there.

Negotiations in Cleveland were bogged down. The AFL-CIO Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the independent Teamsters Union struck the Plain Dealer and the Press & News. Chief issues are the Guild's demands for union security and the Teamsters' insistence on improved wages and working conditions.

In New York, the mission of the board of jurists was described as advisory only. The board was not empowered to pass judgment on wages and other strike issues.

The publishers said they would cooperate with the board.

Powers said members of Local 6 will meet Sunday to decide whether the printers will go along with the fact-finding study.

He also announced he has asked U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to look into an agreement among publishers of the nine closed newspapers that a strike against one was a strike against all.

The printers last Dec. 8 struck the Times, Daily News, Journal-American and World-Telegram & the Sun. The city's five other major dailies — the Post, Herald Tribune, Mirror, Long Island Press and Long Island Star-Journal — then canceled further publication, except that the Press continues to print non-city editions for suburban Long Island.

The printers seek an $18.45-a-week wage increase over two years, plus fringe benefits, all of which the publishers say would amount to $38 weekly per man.

The publishers have offered the printers a $9.25 weekly package over the two years.

One-Cent Stamp Is Popular Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The one-cent postage stamp, a nearly forgotten relic, was back in large-scale use today.

That's because it takes five cents worth of postage now to send a letter first class and eight cents worth for air mail. People who had four-cent and seven-cent stamps needed the one-centers to meet the new requirements.

When the new postal rates went into effect Monday, Syracuse, N.Y., post office sold more than 500,000 one-cent stamps. This compared with the normal daily sale of 10,000.

Baltimore post offices were hit for about three million one-centers and special messengers were sent to Washington for three or four million more.

"Christmas was mild compared to this," said Louis Caplan, a Baltimore postal window clerk for 38 years.

An enterprising Lincoln, Neb., resident beat the postal hike deadline, sending out 200 four-cent letters marked: Do not open until Christmas 1963.

Columbus, Ohio, mailmen picked up 38,000 letters Sunday night—before the midnight deadline compared with the usual 8,000.

Postal officials said a lot of letter receivers will have to pay an extra penny for four-cent letters posted after the deadline. The postmen predicted many won't be happy about having to go to the post office to get such letters if they aren't home when the postman comes.

In Monday's first pickup of 20,000 letters in Dallas, Tex., about half failed to carry the new postage.

At Boston's main post office, people lined up 40 and 50 deep at six stamp windows. The Pittsburgh post office was forced to put on extra employees at its stamp windows. In Salt Lake City, the stamp line stretched out into the street.

In Washington, the Post Office Department canvassed its major offices throughout the nation and reported that "the transition has been remarkably smooth, for which we can thank the press and the public."

U.S. Rallies New Pressure Against Communist Cuba

Clear Track Seen Possible for JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appeared today to be holding a slim margin in a tight struggle to clear the track for action in the new Congress on major segments of his legislative program.

Kennedy previews his proposals for leaders of both parties at a late afternoon White House conference in advance of Wednesday's formal opening of the 88th Congress.

Members who have discussed his program with him predicted no surprise requests. A possible exception could be a renewed recommendation for action on a bill to eliminate state literary tests in voting—a measure the Senate killed last May.

As new members of the House and Senate made the round of coffee klatches and other get acquainted affairs, leaders quietly discussed the possibility of breaking up what promise to be a lengthy session with a summer recess.

House Democrats, called into caucus, were expected to give majority support to a move to retain the slim liberal margin on the powerful Rules Committee by keeping its membership at 15.

Kennedy has said his program will be bottled up if the committee reverts to conservative control in a 12-member lineup, as it would do unless the House acts affirmatively.

In the Senate, bipartisan liberals encountered rough going in a scheduled effort to change the rule that requires a two-thirds majority the right to end filibustering met some strong opposition.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois announced in advance of an afternoon party caucus that he is opposed to the majority vote proposal.

With Republicans filling only 33 of the Senate's 100 seats, Dirksen hinted broadly that he expects most GOP members to vote against the rules change proposal.

Southern opponents of civil rights legislation were called into session by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., to map a filibuster against the rules proposal.

Russell and his teammates have threatened to talk for weeks. Dirksen said, however, he thinks the controversy can be resolved within a reasonable time.

The tentative scheduling of congressional action on Kennedy's major recommendations left room for a possible August recess.

The House Ways and Means Committee expects to go to work shortly on presidential proposals to cut down special exemptions and income treatments in the revenue code and to reduce rates for individual and corporation taxpayers.

Leaders hope to have this measure ready for an early June vote in the House and possible Senate action late in July.

Since Ways and Means also must handle such matters, the outlook is clouded for Kennedy's proposal to finance health care for the elderly through Social Security taxes.

Kennedy Books Congress Talks

Leaders To Confer On New Legislation

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—His holiday over, President Kennedy returns to the capital today on the eve of the new Congress and immediately maps out for its leaders the course on which he wants to steer the nation.

Barely an hour after his arrival, he will greet in the White House the 16 congressional leaders of both parties.

After attending a formal dinner at the French Embassy, he will take part in ceremonies at the National Gallery of Art opening a special exhibition of Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, the Mona Lisa. The painting is on loan from the Louvre in Paris.

Sitting in on the White House session with congressional leaders will be Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Much has gone on since Congress adjourned last Oct. 13—the Cuban crisis, the Sino-Soviet rift, the decisions on canceling the Skybolt missile and on nuclear power for American allies in Europe, and the Communist Chinese thrust across India's frontier.

Over the long term, the President's concern and hope is perhaps greatest in the foreign policy area. But the calendar may force him to give most of his immediate attention to domestic matters.

With the 88th Congress convening Wednesday, Kennedy must plot a campaign to win favorable action on his domestic programs—some of which have died several deaths in the recent past.

Included in the 1963 program are such touchy items as proposed tax cuts, medical care for the aged, aid to education and a new farm program.

16,000 Soviet Troops Still Remain on Isle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sought today to rally stronger pressures against Cuba—still the base for an estimated 16,000 to 17,000 Soviet soldiers—as the next step in an effort to end the Communist threat in the hemisphere.

J.S. officials believe the campaign may be long and difficult.

The United States and the Soviet Union put a formal and diplomatic end to the Cuban crisis Monday with a letter announcing the conclusion of their talks.

The letter, from U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov to U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, acknowledged they had not been able to "resolve all the problems that have arisen in connection" with the crisis.

But they said they hoped that the "actions taken to avert the threat of war" will lead, "toward the adjustment of other differences" between the two countries.

One issue still remaining is that of Cuba itself.

The U.S. government, Washington officials stated, stands firmly committed to President Kennedy's promise to try to halt Cuban subversion and to his proposition that "the Cuban people shall some day be truly free."

Since the avowed U.S. intent is not to accomplish this by military invasion, and proposed measures are more psychological and economic than forceful, an indefinite period of contest lay ahead.

Informants said the estimate of 16,000 to 17,000 Soviet military personnel still in Cuba—substantially higher than previous estimates—stemmed from a reevaluation of intelligence data (Continued on Page 2)

Pastor Fined As Moonshiner

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP)—A Nashville church pastor was fined $50 in city court for manufacturing illegal whiskey in the church coffee urn.

The Rev. Bernard Swain, 30, pastor of the St. Psalm Spiritual church, was arrested in a Dec. 20 raid. Officers said they found a 55-gallon drum of mash and a 15-gallon coffee urn which also contained mash. Swain told Judge Andrew Doyle Monday he was making sacramental "holy wine" for his congregation. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

The Rev. Mr. Swain said services were suspended temporarily three months ago because of financial difficulty but said his congregation numbered 6,000.

Police Inspector Ralston Marler, testifying about the raid, called the building "anything but a church."

Ole Miss Chief Denies RFK Rap

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Answering charges by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Chancellor John D. Williams of the University of Mississippi says the school has obeyed all federal orders since its desegregation crisis last fall.

Williams said no complaint had been made by an official representing the Justice Department when he conferred at length with university officials last week.

Kennedy's criticism of university officials came after James H. Meredith said Monday he would withdraw from the university unless the situation changes. Meredith, 29, is the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university.

Meredith, who distributed a statement at a news conference in his dormitory apartment, didn't say what changes he had in mind. But he told newsmen he felt he had to have a "situation more conducive to learning."

A little later Kennedy issued a statement in Washington in which he called on university officials to take appropriate steps to make it possible for Meredith to continue in school.

For the first month after Meredith's court-ordered enrollment, he was subjected to frequent harassment by students. University officials then cracked down and threatened expulsion of any students guilty of conduct "not conducive to study."

Since then, Meredith has gone largely unnoticed on the campus although most students have refused to associate with him. However, when word spread on the campus of his possible withdrawal, a group of about 500 hissed him outside his dormitory.

In his statement, Kennedy said: "Many members of the faculty have made an effort in the highest tradition of their profession to obey the court's orders and assist Mr. Meredith in getting an education, but it is true that a number of officials charged with the administration of the university have not met their responsibilities."

"It is incumbent upon them and state law enforcement officials to make it possible for Mr. Meredith

Stoutsville Woman Killed

A 72-year-old woman was killed at about 3:15 p. m. yesterday when she was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad engine at the Main Street crossing in Stoutsville.

Mrs. Marie Greist of Stoutsville was killed instantly when she stepped into the path of the moving train. She apparently did not hear warning whistles given by the train's engineer.

Fairfield County deputies said Mrs. Greist was born November 11, 1890, in Franklin County, the daughter of Berthold and Emma Markwood Christ.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter E. Huffer, Stoutsville, a son, Clifford R. Denny, Route 4, eight grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; a brother, James Christ, Columbus; two sisters Mrs. Ethel Williams, Columbus, and Mrs. Gertrude Engels, Grove City.

SERVICES will be 2 p. m. Thursday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Ronald Brant officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Ohioan Assaulted, Dies On New York Street

NEW YORK (AP) — A man tentatively identified as William Culbertson Pomeroy, 50, of Toledo, Ohio, was assaulted by a man on 51st Street near 9th Avenue early today, fell and struck his head, and died in St. Clare's Hospital, police reported.

The attack, apparently was an attempted robbery.

Residents of the area notified police. The assailant fled, apparently without robbing his victim. About $5 was in the victim's pockets.

to continue his education without interruption."

Kennedy added that Meredith is "as free to leave the school as he was to enter it."

In New York, a spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said the possibility that Meredith might withdraw from the university would not lessen efforts to desegregate the school.

The spokesman said efforts soon will be made to integrate the Universities of Alabama and South Carolina. He would not say how many Negro students may be involved.

Chancellor Williams said the administration and faculty "have done all that was responsible and proper to insure the best possible education for all students."

"Since the court order was issued, not one directive has been received from the federal courts, the military authorities, the U. S. marshals or the Justice Department in this connection except for one football game to be removed from the campus, which was done. All reasonable suggestions have been followed."

U.N. Tightens Congo Squeeze

Tshombe's Movement Still Tottering

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Swedish U.N. troops have taken a north Katanga rail town without a fight, tightening the military squeeze on Moise Tshombe's tottering movement for independence.

The thrust into Kaniama, 360 miles northwest of Elisabethville, came as the U.N. Command was believed preparing an ultimatum to Tshombe demanding that he surrender his last-ditch stronghold of Kolwezi.

Tshombe has threatened to resort to scorched earth warfare, but British officials say they have had word that he plans an early return to Elisabethville.

U.N. headquarters in New York denounced Tshombe's scorched earth threats as reckless and irresponsible. A spokesman for Secretary-General U. Thant said the United Nations will exert every effort to prevent application of such a policy.

U.N. officials have promised Tshombe safe conduct to return to the capital, but they have made it clear there is no chance for any second looks at reunification. Thant wants to put his unity plan into effect by Jan. 14.

Although time appeared to be running out for the Katanga president, it was believed he still had 10 days or so before the U.N. force would be ready to strike at Kolwezi from Jadotville, about 80 miles to the southeast. If he agrees to end resistance, Tshombe might still wrest a position of power for himself in a Katanga already being absorbed into the Congo by central government administrators following in the wake of the U.N. armies.

Tax Hike Caused Defeat — DiSalle

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told area television viewers Monday night he lost his bid for re-election "when we were forced to raise taxes in 1959."

The governor, interviewed on WHIO-TV, asserted once again, as he did in numerous campaign statements, that the tax increase was needed badly to meet increasing costs of state services such as welfare, mental health and education.

"I am willing to wait and see how my successor handles the state's tax problems," DiSalle said.

Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes succeeds DiSalle Monday.

16,000 Soviet Troops Still Remain on Isle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sought today to rally stronger pressures against Cuba—still the base for an estimated 16,000 to 17,000 Soviet soldiers—as the next step in an effort to end the Communist threat in the hemisphere.

J.S. officials believe the campaign may be long and difficult. The United States and the Soviet Union put a formal and diplomatic end to the Cuban crisis Monday with a letter announcing the conclusion of their talks.

The U.S. government, Washington officials stated, stands firmly committed to President Kennedy's promise to try to halt Cuban subversion and to his proposition that "the Cuban people shall some day be truly free."

Since the avowed U.S. intent is not to accomplish this by military invasion, and proposed measures are more psychological and economic than forceful, an indefinite period of contest lay ahead.

Pastor Fined As Moonshiner

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP)—A Nashville church pastor was fined $50 in city court for manufacturing illegal whisky in the church coffee urn.

The Rev. Bernard Swain, 30, pastor of the St. Paul Spiritual church, was arrested in a Dec. 20 raid. Officers said they found a 55-gallon drum of mash and a 15-gallon coffee urn which also contained mash. Swain told Judge Andrew Doyle Monday he was making sacramental "holy wine" for his congregation. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

The Rev. Mr. Swain said services were suspended temporarily three months ago because of financial difficulty but said his congregation numbered 6,000.

Police Inspector Ramon Marler, testifying about the raid, called the building "anything but a church."

Disarmament 'Certain'

DETROIT (AP) — Former Ambassador Arthur H. Dean says the Soviet Union and the West eventually will be forced to agree on disarmament because of the progress in the "terrible science" of producing nuclear weapons.

Ole Miss Chief Denies RFK Rap

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Answering charges by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Chancellor John D. Williams of the University of Mississippi says the school has obeyed all federal orders since its desegregation crisis last fall.

Williams said no complaint had been made by an official representing the Justice Department when he conferred at length with university officials last week.

Kennedy's criticism of university officials came after James H. Meredith said Monday he would withdraw from the university unless the situation changes. Meredith, 29, is the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university.

Meredith, who distributed a statement at a news conference in his dormitory apartment, didn't say what changes he had in mind. But he told newsmen he felt he had to have a "situation more conducive to learning."

A little later Kennedy issued a statement in Washington in which he called on university officials to take appropriate steps to make it possible for Meredith to continue in school.

For the first month after Meredith's court-ordered enrollment, he was subjected to frequent harassment by students. University officials then cracked down and threatened expulsion of any students guilty of conduct "not conducive to study."

Since then, Meredith has gone largely unnoticed on the campus although most students have refused to associate with him. However, when word spread on the campus of his possible withdrawal, a group of about 500 hissed him outside his dormitory.

In his statement, Kennedy said: "Many members of the faculty have made an effort in the highest tradition of their profession to obey the court's orders and assist Mr. Meredith in getting an education, but it is true that a number of officials charged with the administration of the university have not met their responsibilities."

"It is incumbent upon them and state law enforcement officials to make it possible for Mr. Meredith to continue his education without interruption."

Kennedy added that Meredith is "as free to leave the school as he was to enter it."

In New York, a spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said the possibility that Meredith might withdraw from the university would not lessen efforts to desegregate the school.

The spokesman said efforts soon will be made to integrate the Universities of Alabama and South Carolina. He would not say how many Negro students may be involved.

Chancellor Williams said the administration and faculty "have done all that was responsible and proper to insure the best possible education for all students."

"Since the court order was issued, not one directive has been received from the federal courts, the military authorities, the U. S. marshals or the Justice Department in this connection except for one football game to be removed from the campus, which was done. All reasonable suggestions have been followed."

U.N. Tightens Congo Squeeze

Tshombe's Movement Still Tottering

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Swedish U.N. troops have taken a north Katanga rail town without a fight, tightening the military squeeze on Moise Tshombe's tottering movement for independence.

The thrust into Kaniama, 360 miles northwest of Elisabethville, came as the U.N. Command was believed preparing an ultimatum to Tshombe demanding that he surrender his last-ditch stronghold of Kolwezi.

Tshombe has threatened to resort to scorched earth warfare, but British officials say they have had word that he plans an early return to Elisabethville.

U.N. headquarters in New York denounced Tshombe's scorched earth threats as reckless and irresponsible. A spokesman for Secretary-General U. Thant said the United Nations will exert every effort to prevent application of such a policy.

U.N. officials have promised Tshombe safe conduct to return to the capital, but they have made it clear there is no chance for any second looks at reunification. Thant wants to put his unity plan into effect by Jan. 14.

Although time appeared to be running out for the Katanga president, it was believed he still had 10 days or so before the U.N. force would be ready to strike at Kolwezi from Jadotville, about 80 miles to the southeast. If he agrees to end resistance, Tshombe might still wrest a position of power for himself in a Katanga already being absorbed into the Congo by central government administrators following in the wake of the U.N. armies.

Stoutsville Woman Killed

A 72-year-old woman was killed at about 3:15 p. m. yesterday when she was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad engine at the Main Street crossing in Stoutsville.

Mrs. Marie Greist of Stoutsville was killed instantly when she stepped into the path of the moving train. She apparently did not hear warning whistles given by the train's engineer Fairfield County deputies said.

Mrs. Greist was born November 11, 1890, in Franklin County, the daughter of Berthold and Emma Markwood Christ.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter E. Huffer, Stoutsville, a son, Clifford R. Denny, Route 4; eight grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; a brother, James Christ, Columbus; two sisters Mrs. Ethel Williams, Columbus, and Mrs. Gertrude Engels, Grove City.

SERVICES will be 2 p. m. Thursday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Ronald Brant officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p. m. Wednesday.

The attack, apparently was an attempted robbery.

Residents of the area notified police. The assailant fled, apparently without robbing his victim.

About $5 was in the victim's pockets.

One-Cent Stamp Is Popular Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The one-cent postage stamp, a nearly forgotten relic, was back in large-scale use today.

That's because it takes five cents worth of postage now to send a letter first class and eight cents worth for air mail. People who had four-cent and seven-cent stamps needed the one-centers to meet the new requirements.

When the new postal rates went into effect Monday, Syracuse, N.Y., post office sold more than 500,000 one-cent stamps. This compared with the normal daily sale of 10,000.

Baltimore post offices were hit for about three million one-centers and special messengers were sent to Washington for three or four million more.

"Christmas was mild compared to this," said Louis Caplan, a Baltimore postal window clerk for 38 years.

An enterprising Lincoln, Neb., resident beat the postal hike dead-line, sending out 200 four-cent letters marked: Do not wait until Christmas 1963.

Columbus, Ohio, mailmen picked up 38,000 letters Sunday night—before the midnight dead-line compared with the usual 8,000.

Postal officials said a lot of letter receivers will have to pay an extra penny for four-cent letters posted after the deadline. The postmen predicted many won't be happy about having to go to the post office to get such letters if they aren't home when the postman comes.

half failed to carry the new postage.

At Boston's main post office, people lined up 40 and 50 deep at six stamp windows. The Pittsburgh post office was forced to put on extra employees at its stamp windows. In Salt Lake City, the stamp line stretched out into the street.

In Washington, the Post Office Department canvassed its major offices throughout the nation and reported that "the transition has been remarkably smooth, for which we can thank the press and

County Commissioners Study Plans for Bridge Replacement

The need for a new bridge spanning Hargus Creek at Route 22 was the subject of a lengthy study yesterday by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

According to official records, the span has been listed as a temporary structure for the past 15 years. The Commission, along with County Engineer Henry McCrady, indicated that replacement now looms as a necessity.

An official from Division No. 6 of the State Highway Department, attending the Monday session, said normal procedure is for the state to furnish 80 per cent of the cost of such an undertaking. The county would provide 20 per cent.

The Ohio highway spokesman said the state aid can be expected only if replacement work is undertaken before the state should possibly consider relocating or moving Route 22 away from its present position. If such state action should be taken in the future, and the old bridge still remains, indications are the county then would shoulder the entire cost of any contemplated replacement project.

ESTIMATES by the County Engineer indicate that a new bridge at the Lancaster Pike area would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. Based on this figure, the county's share would be $20,000. The commission, inclined to be in favor of taking advantage of state financial aid, authorized Burgess & Niple engineering consultants of Columbus to draft plans for a new bridge. These drawings and cost estimates will be presented to the county solons as soon as they are completed.

rather than any new influx of Soviet troops.

The higher count was also said to have grown from information indicating Soviet soldiers are more widely engaged in the Cuban military system than previously thought.

The current U.S. assessment sums up this way:

About two-thirds of the approximately 17,000 Soviet military in Cuba are advisers and technicians. About one-third are combat soldiers in four heavily armed battalions. About 4,000 troops — those associated with the withdrawn missiles and bombers — have left.

The expectation here is that the number of trainers and technicians will dwindle as their tasks are completed in future months. There is no sign of departure of the combat battalions.

The U.S. government has made plain it intends to continue its aerial surveillance over Cuba.

Limits on the effectiveness of a general hemispheric restriction on trade with Cuba are recognized here. It was pointed out that the $53 million in U.S. food-drops ransom for the Cuban invasion prisoners amounted to about five years worth of Latin-American trade with Cuba, now running about $10 million annually.

Cuba now is plagued by economic troubles. The U.S. foreign agriculture service said today that four years of Castro administration has just about wrecked the island's agriculture.

18 Persons Indicted by Grand Jury

Twenty-one indictments were returned against 18 persons yesterday by the January term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury including two secret cases.

Only two cases were dismissed by the jury. One involved Richard Mason, on non-support charges. The other "no bill" was a case of breaking and entering an uninhabited building against Ray Accord. The charge was changed to forced entry of a depository box and an indictment returned.

Judge William Ammer announced today that arraignments for those indicted would be held beginning 10 a. m. Friday.

Indictments returned by the jurors at about 3:30 p. m. yesterday are as follows:

ROBERT Ray Ramey, non-support; James Congrove, grand larceny; Richard Trent, non-support; Ray Accord, grand larceny and forced entry of a depository box; Virgil William Hamilton, assault on a minor;

Gary Lee Thompson, assault on a minor; George Arnold Jones, two counts of assault with a deadly weapon; Sanford Showalter, breaking and entering; Donald Hashman, breaking and entering; Darrell Showalter, breaking and entering;

Gerald P. Leist, breaking and entering; James Wilson Liston, non-support; Charles F. Peterman, forgery; Luther Pauley, rape; Ruth M. Knece, issuing check with no account; Elba Frazier, non-support; Hunter Certain, abandoning a pregnant woman.

Following the court session, the jurors made their regular inspection of the jail and commended Sheriff Walton W. Spangler and his staff for the "excellent condition of the jail and residence."

The following recommendations were made by the jury for improvements: all broken windows in the jail should be replaced and an effort should be made to secure a non-breakable glass; the sink in the jail kitchen is too low and should be raised for the convenience of employees; and finally that water should be made available for the kitchen of the sheriff's residence.

Members of the jury were: C. E. Mahaffey, foreman, Leo D. Morgan, Ellen J. Bowers, William E. Beavers, Wes Edstrom Jr., LeRoy Smith, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, Mrs. L. E. Foreman, Stanford Near, William V. Vance, George Kerr, Chester A. McDaniels, Mrs. Edward G. Grigg, Mrs. Doyle Painter, and Mrs. Howard N. Stevenson.

Planet Venus Believed Arid, Hot, Windy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radar and radio studies of Venus have etched this apparent picture of that mysterious planet: a waterless desert swept by winds of hundreds of miles an hour and a temperature of around 600 degrees Fahrenheit.

The picture results from astronomical research done by the Naval Research Laboratory here and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., the Washington Post reported Monday night.

How accurate a picture it is will be at least partly determined when the bulk of the information gathered by the U.S. Mariner 2 satellite is evaluated and made public, possibly later this month.

The Post story said scientists at the naval laboratory here determined by means of a radio telescope that there is little if any water in the atmosphere around Venus, suggesting a temperature of 600 degrees, far too hot for human life as it's known on earth.

Radar signals bounced off Venus by the scientists at the California laboratory indicated the surface of Venus is more like a desert than an ocean.

Axes Honed For Cutting Of Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic and Republican leaders of the House Appropriations Committee pounded their axes today in anticipation of receiving a $99-billion budget from President Kennedy late this month.

They set their sights on deep cuts, as high as $10 billion.

Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., said: "It seems to me to be a little impractical to propose such an impressive budget and at the same time suggest tax cuts when we already face a huge deficit."

"We expect to cut it as deep as we can and at every opportunity," Cannon said.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen of Iowa, senior Republican on Cannon's committee, called the budget proposal "ridiculous."

Jensen said he believed new appropriations which will finance most of the budget could be cut as much as $10 billion "without hurting anything."

The estimated $99-billion fiscal 1964 budget would top all records in war or peace. The biggest share of it will go for defense. Some informed officials have calculated the military spending at $50 billion.

Muny Court Lists Income For December

Total fines, costs, bond forfeitures and parking tickets collected by the Circleville Municipal Court amounted to $5,236.85 during the month of December.

Of this total $3,519.06 was disbursed to the city of Circleville, $603.43 went to Pickaway county and $1,995.36 to the auditor of the state.

The money sent to the state was 45 per cent of the Highway Patrol fines and bond forfeitures. The Pickaway County Sheriff received $19.

The court listed 162 criminal cases filed during the month. Number of cases disposed of during the month was 166. All or part of the fines and costs were suspended in 18 cases. Suspended fines and costs totaled $623.00.

EIGHT civil cases were filed during the month. One marriage was performed.

The number of civil cases concluded during the month of December was 17. Total costs due the city from the civil cases was $225.80.

In other business, the Commissioners appointed Mrs. Stanley Bowers of Ashville as a member of the Board of Directors of the Pickaway County District Public Library. The term is for four years.

Additional discussion centered on moves to improve the heating system at Memorial Hall. Commission chairman Clyde Michel said efforts will be made to provide equal and satisfactory heat in all rooms of the building.

A new heating unit was recently installed at Memorial Hall. Proper measures to insure equal distribution of warm air now seems to be the problem.

A heavy agenda Monday forced the Commission to postpone action on county appropriations for 1963 until today and probably tomorrow.

Contract Bids Under Study by Westfall Board

The Westfall Board of Education reviewed bids submitted for the construction of the new Westfall High School building but failed to award the contract during a board meeting last night.

George McDowell, county superintendent of schools, reported that all bids submitted were higher than the architects' estimate for the construction of a new building.

The board will meet again January 15 after studying all available data and alternatives on the bids. McDowell noted that no definite decision has been made yet concerning the awarding the contract for the construction of the building.

The architects for the Westfall proposed Westfall building is Kellam and Foley of Columbus.

Motor Stocks Hit New Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Three motor shares touched new highs as they paced the stock market to a renewed rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to 1 or 2 points. Expectations of higher earnings and, possibly, higher dividends for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler accompanied heavy buying in those issues.

GM needed only a fractional gain to touch an historic high of 60 1/4, a gain of 1/4. Chrysler ran up more than 2 points, touching a new 1962-63 peak of 78. Ford gained about a point, touching a 1962-63 high of 47 1/2.

Gains of a point or more were made by Consolidated Edison, Eastman Kodak and Union Carbide. Du Pont added a couple of points.

Man Injured In Route 23 Auto Crash

Edward Leroy Myers, 23, of 706 N. Pickaway St., was seriously injured yesterday when his auto crashed into a high tension tower near the entrance of St. Joseph's Cemetery, south of Shadesville, on Route 23.

Myers was listed in "satisfactory" condition today at Mercy Hospital, Columbus, following surgery for internal injuries and multiple body fractures received in the accident.

Franklin County deputies said Myers tried to pass another car on the right side when he lost control of his vehicle on the slippery highway. The auto skidded almost 200 feet over a sodded area before crashing with the tower.

Myers was on his way to attend his first day of classes at a Columbus business college when the accident occurred.

Ramon E. Maxson of the Laurelville Grain & Mill Co. is attending a dealer training conference here for Master Master Mix dealers of Central Soya's McMillen Feed Division.

Feed dealers from several states are attending the conference, which offers dealers and their representatives a review of successful feeding and management programs for poultry and dairy producers. Improved customer services are also being discussed.

At the conference, emphasis is placed upon practices which will enable dealers to better serve dairy and poultry producers in the efficient production of milk and eggs.

Among the speakers at the four-day conference are specialists in feed research and nutrition.

Boat Founders, 36 Die

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—A motor launch foundered in the stormy Persian Gulf near Bushire Monday night and 36 of the 60 persons aboard perished.

18 Persons Indicted by Grand Jury

Twenty-one indictments were returned against 18 persons yesterday by the January term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury including two secret cases.

Only two cases were dismissed by the jury. One involved Richard Mason, on non-support charges. The other "no bill" was a case of breaking and entering an uninhabited building against Ray Accord. The charge was changed to forced entry of a depository box and an indictment returned.

Judge William Ammer announced today that arraignments for those indicted would be held beginning 10 a. m. Friday.

Indictments returned by the jurors are as follows:

Gary Lee Thompson, assault on a minor; George Arnold Jones, two counts of assault with a deadly weapon; Sanford Showalter, breaking and entering; Donald Hashman, breaking and entering; Darrell Showalter, breaking and entering;

Gerald P. Leist, breaking and entering; James Wilson Liston, non-support; Charles F. Peterman, non-support; Luther Paulley, rape; Ruth M. Knece, issuing check without an account; Elba Frazier, non-support; Hunter Certain, abandoning a pregnant woman.

Following the court session, the jurors made their regular inspection of the jail and commended Sheriff Walton W. Spangler and his staff for the "excellent condition of the jail and residence."

The following recommendations were made by the jury for improvements: all broken windows in the jail should be replaced and an effort should be made to secure a non-breakable glass; the sink in the jail kitchen is too low and should be raised for the convenience of employees; and finally that water should be made available for the kitchen of the sheriff's residence.

Working Barkeep Hit by Own Auto

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—William A. Danver may have a hard time explaining it but he was hit by his own car Monday while he was at work in a tavern.

Danver, 53, of nearby New Matamoras was tending bar at a tavern four miles south of New Matamoras when a car swerving to miss another auto on Ohio 7, veered into the tavern's parking lot and hit Danver's car.

The impact knocked the car through the wall of the tavern and into Danver. He suffered bruises on his legs and arms.

Planet Venus Believed Arid, Hot, Windy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Radar and radio studies of Venus have etched this apparent picture of that mysterious planet: a waterless desert swept by winds of hundreds of miles an hour and a temperature of around 600 degrees Fahrenheit.

The picture results from astronomical research done by the Naval Research Laboratory here and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., the Washington Post reported Monday night.

How accurate a picture it will be at least partly determined when the bulk of the information gathered by the U.S. Mariner 2 satellite is evaluated and made public, possibly later this month.

The Post story said scientists at the naval laboratory here determined by means of a radio telescope that there is little if any water in the atmosphere around Venus, suggesting a temperature of 600 degrees, far too hot for human life as it's known on earth.

Radar signals bounced off Venus by the scientists at the California laboratory indicated the surface of Venus is more like a desert than an ocean.

Axes Honed For Cutting Of Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic and Republican leaders of the House Appropriations Committee pounded their axes today in anticipation of receiving a $99-billion budget from President Kennedy late this month.

They set their sights on deep cuts, as high as $10 billion.

Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., said: "It seems to me to be a little impractical to propose such an impressive budget and at the same time suggest tax cuts when we already face a huge deficit."

"We expect to cut it as deep as we can and at every opportunity," Cannon said.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen of Iowa, senior Republican on Cannon's committee, called the budget proposal "ridiculous."

Jensen said he believed new appropriations which will finance most of the budget could be cut as much as $10 billion "without hurting anything."

The estimated $99-billion fiscal 1964 budget would top all records in war or peace. The biggest share of it will go for defense. Some informed officials have calculated the military spending at $50 billion.

U.N. Book Shut On Cuba Crisis

But U.S., Russia Say Differences Unresolved

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have closed the U.N. book on the Cuban crisis that two months ago raised the prospect of nuclear war.

The big powers, in a joint letter Monday night to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, conceded that they have not been able to resolve all problems in connection with the crisis. But they said in view of understandings they have reached, it is not necessary for the matter "to occupy further the attention of the Security Council at this time."

The chief remaining deadlock was Cuba's refusal to admit the foreign inspectors demanded by the United States to verify the removal of Soviet offensive missiles and jet bombers.

The Soviet Union also failed to get guarantees against an invasion of Cuba.

The joint letter was signed by U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

Cuba's delegate, Carlos Lechuga, raised no objection to dropping the matter in the Security Council. But he said in a separate letter that the U.S. offer of a no-invasion pledge on condition that Cuba permit foreign inspection was "preposterous insolence." He reiterated Prime Minister Fidel Castro's contention that the decision to permit "inspection of its territory is the sovereign right of a nation."

Although Castro refused to admit foreign inspectors to Cuba, U.S. air and sea reconnaissance verified the Soviet removal of nuclear-capable missiles and bombers which could reach U.S. cities as well as the dismantling of the missile bases.

The Kennedy administration finally said it was satisfied the offensive weapons had been removed from Cuba. The Kennedy administration believes there still are 16,000 to 17,000 Soviet soldiers in Cuba. Castro, at his Jan. 2 anniversary parade, displayed Soviet anti-aircraft missiles which he boasted could knock down any foreign plane that flew over Cuba.

McElroy Set To File New Blue Law Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who filed suits in December to dissolve seven corporations for doing allegedly illegal Sunday business, says more suits will be filed.

"At the time of filing the seven suits in the Supreme Court of Ohio," McElroy said Monday, "I indicated that more would be filed. More will be filed."

The outgoing attorney general said that he is convinced his actions were timely and "necessary to promote the good of the state and its citizens."

McElroy added: "If one provision can be violated with impunity, then all law and order is at stake. I felt that local law enforcement officials needed a point of reference so that they could continue to do their jobs in good faith."

Atty. Gen.-elect William Saxbe had termed the action "ridiculous."

Papers Sued For 'Lockout'

NEW YORK (AP)—A union, charging that its members were locked off their jobs, today sued three New York City newspapers for a total of $572,000 in back pay and other benefits.

The suits were filed in U.S. District Court by Local 2, New York Newspaper Printing Pressmen's Union, against the New York Herald Tribune, the New York Mirror and the New York Post.

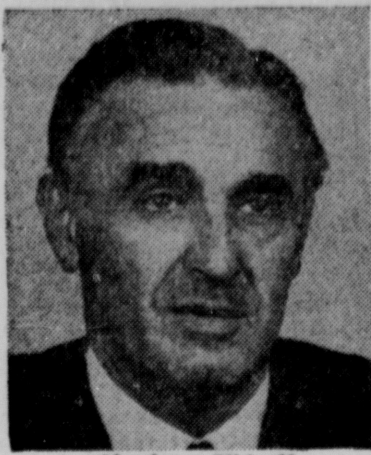

The three newspapers shut down Dec. 8 when Local 6 of the International Typographical Union struck four other Manhattan dailies. The three shut down under a "one struck, all struck" policy.

Ohio Railroader Files $100,000 Damage Action

CHICAGO (AP)—A suit asking $100,000 damages from the Pennsylvania Railroad has been filed in Circuit Court here by Eugene E. Fisher of Niles, Ohio.

Fisher, a brakeman for the PRR, said in his petition he suffered bone fractures and dislocations when a switch he was pulling gave way suddenly April 20, 1962, in Youngstown, Ohio.

U.S. Senate Awaits Arrival Of Eleven Neophyte Members

Abraham Ribicoff

Edwin Mechem

Milward Simpson

Gaylord Nelson

One ex-Cabinet member and three former governors among 11 new senators.

By NATHAN BLOCK
Central Press Association Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Senate is awaiting the arrival of 11 new members — eight Democrats and three Republicans — who will join the world's "greatest deliberative body" when it reconvenes Jan. 9.

Among them are three former governors, one ex-Cabinet member, and a handful of one-time U. S. representatives. But regardless of their previous high station in life, they're all neophytes now and as nervous about what lies ahead of them as the lowliest freshman who ever entered Congress.

Virtually all have already come to the nation's capital for an advance view of what lies ahead. What does a senator-elect say when he first sets foot at the Capitol?

"Gosh, I finally made it," remarked one, as he gazed at the white dome which towered above him.

"Never dreamed I'd get here," remarked another as he walked into the gold-furnished Senate chamber.

"I'm still way up on Cloud Nine," frankly admitted Thomas J. McIntyre, the Democrat who amazed the nation by being elected to the Senate from supposedly rock-ribbed Republican New Hampshire.

Birch Bayh Jr., the Democrat who defeated veteran GOP Senator Homer E. Capehart in Indiana, recalled what he told his six-year-old son, Evan, when the youngster complained he never saw him any more during the campaign.

"Cheer up, son, everything will be back to normal after Nov. 6," Bayh told the youngster.

"Only if you lose, Dad," retorted young Evan.

Three of those elected Nov. 6 are already senators although they will not take their seats until they're sworn in Jan. 9. They are Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the President's brother; former Gov. Milward Simpson, D-Wyo., and McIntyre. Each was elected to the unexpired term of a predecessor, so they went on the Senate payroll Nov. 7.

In addition, they will have seniority over the remaining senators-elect, a very important consideration in Congress. As for the seniority of the others, this is one of the first questions asked by senators-elect, because each will take his seat the same day as the others.

Seniority in the Congress is a tricky thing. Its determination is akin to working out a crossword puzzle. Among the criteria taken into consideration in determining seniority are: previous service in the House, in the Cabinet, in a governor's mansion, in a state legislature. If all else is even, the date a state was admitted into the Union is conclusive.

Most Senators-elect learn with surprise that before they take the oath of office in the August Senate chamber, they must take still another oath during which they swear they're not subversives and don't believe in the forceful overthrow of the United States government.

The new senators will also sign a series of forms, just like any other Senate employee, designating whether they wish to be paid by check or cash, how many exemptions they desire for income tax withholding purposes, and whether they care to be included in the Civil Service Retirement System and the Federal Employees Group Life Insurance.

It's all part of the task of being initiated into the Senate.

The climax comes Jan. 9 when the new senators walk in groups of three, each man accompanied by an incumbent, to the well of the Senate to be sworn in by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

In addition to McIntyre, Bayh, Kennedy and Simpson, the new senators will include Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md.; Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii; Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.; George S. McGovern, D-S. D.; former Gov. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.; former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, R-N. M.; and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo.

Libel Judgment To Be Reviewed

N.Y. Times, Clerics Aided by Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to review a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala., city official in a suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers.

The Circuit Court of Montgomery County made the award to L. B. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery. In addition to The Times, the judgment was against the Revs. Ralph Abernathy, Fred L. Shuttlesworth, S. S. Seay Jr., and E. Lowery.

Sullivan's complaint was based on an advertisement in The Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement, containing statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery, was placed by an organization called "The Committee to Defend Martin Luther King and the Struggle for Freedom in the South."

The Times, in appealing to the Supreme Court, contended among other things that the judgment violated the Constitution's guarantee of freedom of press. A separate appeal by the four ministers said the record was devoid of evidence of any authorization or consent by them for publication of the advertisement, or of any malice on their part.

The court also agreed to hear the separate appeal by the four ministers.

In its first business day of the new year, after a recess of three weeks, the high court handed down opinions in two cases.

These were: A unanimous ruling that a Long Island, N.Y., fuel dealer is subject to the National Labor Relations Act although his only contact with interstate commerce is the purchase of oil that has moved across state lines.

An 8-1 decision that proceeds from a sale of mortgaged property may not be used to pay local taxes before payment of an earlier federal tax lien against the owner of the property. The case came from Buffalo, N.Y. Justice Douglas dissented.

For Sale: Painting of Prince Philip Minus His Royal Pants

LONDON (AP)—A London art gallery offered for sale today one of the most unusual royal paintings in history—Prince Philip minus his royal pants.

The painting of Queen Elizabeth's husband—in his underwear—is four feet by three feet in size.

The artist is 22-year-old Barry Fantoni, of London.

The price tag is 47 pounds 5 shilling ($132.30).

The painting shows his royal highness in white shorts and a white T-shirt, black socks, black shoes and garters. In the same painting, the artist portrayed some of Prince Philip's favorite costumes—naval officers' uniform polo player's outfit, royal Stuart tartan, yachting jersey and slacks. He also included a Boy Scout uniform.

Questioned about the picture, Fantoni replied:

"I got the idea from a child's book. You know the kind. You also see them in the comic books. They show a character in his or her underwear and then there are accompanying uniforms, suits and dresses that the child can cut out and fit to the figure."

Lyall Watson, director of the gallery showing this and other Fantoni paintings said:

"This young artist has great promise."

He said there have been inquiries by possible purchasers, but no actual offers.

Prince Philip, of course, did not pose for the picture. The artist said he did it from photographs and imagination.

Small Size Beer Bottles Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Liquor Control is proposing a change in the rules to allow distribution and sale of beer and malt liquor in seven-fluid-ounce containers.

Already can be distributed and sold in such containers in Ohio, as can beer and malt liquor manufactured outside the United States.

The average beer bottle holds 12 fluid ounces, and this is the smallest legal size presently in Ohio for beer and malt liquor made in the U.S.A.

A public hearing on the proposal will be held in Columbus Feb. 1.

Bob Hope Already Itching For Another Yule with GIs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—About this time each year, Bob Hope vows he'll spend next Christmas at home.

"But around November, I start getting excited about the trip. I think I'd like to go to Greece and Turkey next Christmas."

Rapid Robert, in an interview between golf swings at Lakeside Country Club, was talking about his annual Christmas tour to entertain Uncle Sam's far-flung troops.

Bob's last Christmas at home was 1948.

"I think I got to every man in Korea this trip," says Hope. "We used closed circuit television to reach them. Another example of man's inhumanity to man."

At Panmunjom, Hope even tried to cross the line to wisecrack with Communist North Korean soldiers. "They saw me coming and turned their backs on me. I wonder which one of my pictures they saw?"

On his tour to Okinawa, Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and some ships at sea, Hope's troupe did two full shows a Day for 12 days. In between he put on a show whenever two or more GIs gathered.

Hope's doctors long have warned him to take it easy but he considers the Christmas trip therapy.

"Where else can I get an audience that would be charged with desertion if they walked out on my jokes?"

Hope followed Francis Cardinal Spellman into Korea this year. "Last year he followed me and gave all the troops absolution."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Of-ficial Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Low cloudiness remained well entrenched over Ohio Monday night and early today.

Precipitation fell mostly as very light snow in most sections. However, portions of the northern and southwestern counties reported light freezing drizzle.

Since there are no major pressure or frontal systems in the vicinity of the state, changes in the weather will be very slow during the next 24 to 30 hours.

Very light snow or freezing drizzle will end gradually in most sections tonight. Dry weather will follow Wednesday, except for chance of precipitation continuing in portions of the northern counties.

Temperatures early today included 28 at Cleveland and Zanesville. Cincinnati, Marietta and Columbus had 30.

U.N. Book Shut On Cuba Crisis

But U.S., Russia Say Differences Unresolved

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have closed the U.N. book on the Cuban crisis that two months ago raised the prospect of nuclear war.

The big powers, in a joint letter Monday night to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, conceded that they have not been able to resolve all problems in connection with the crisis. But they said in view of understandings they have reached, it is not necessary for the matter "to occupy further the attention of the Security Council at this time."

The chief remaining deadlock was Cuba's refusal to admit the foreign inspectors demanded by the United States to verify the removal of Soviet offensive missiles and jet bombers.

The Soviet Union also failed to get guarantees against an invasion of Cuba.

The joint letter was signed by U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

Cuba's delegate, Carlos Lechuga, raised no objection to dropping the matter in the Security Council. But he said in a separate letter that the U.S. offer of a no-invasion pledge on condition that Cuba permit foreign inspection was "preposterous insolence." He reiterated Prime Minister Fidel Castro's contention that the decision to permit "inspection of its territory is the sovereign right of a nation."

Although Castro refused to admit foreign inspectors to Cuba, U.S. air and sea reconnaissance verified the Soviet removal of nuclear-capable missiles and bombers which could reach U.S. cities as well as the dismantling of the missile bases.

The Kennedy administration finally said it was satisfied the offensive weapons had been removed from Cuba. The Kennedy administration believes there still are 16,000 to 17,000 Soviet soldiers in Cuba. Castro, at his Jan. 2 anniversary parade, displayed Soviet anti-aircraft missiles which he boasted could knock down any foreign plane that flew over Cuba.

McElroy Set To File New Blue Law Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who filed suits in December to dissolve seven corporations for doing allegedly illegal Sunday business, says more suits will be filed.

"At the time of filing the seven suits in the Supreme Court of Ohio," McElroy said Monday, "I indicated that more would be filed. More will be filed."

The outgoing attorney general said that he is convinced his actions were timely and "necessary to promote the good of the state and its citizens."

McElroy added: "If one provision can be violated with impunity, then all law and order is at stake. I felt that local law enforcement officials needed a point of reference so that they could continue to do their jobs in good faith."

Atty. Gen.-elect William Saxbe had termed the action "ridiculous."

Papers Sued For 'Lockout'

NEW YORK (AP)—A union, charging that its members were locked off their jobs, today sued three New York City newspapers for a total of $572,000 in back pay and other benefits.

The suits were filed in U.S. District Court by Local 2, New York Newspaper Printing Pressmen's Union, against the New York Herald Tribune, the New York Mirror and the New York Post.

The three newspapers shut down Dec. 8 when Local 6 of the International Typographical Union struck four other Manhattan dailies. The three shut down under a "one strike, all struck" policy.

U.S. Senate Awaits Arrival Of Eleven Neophyte Members

One ex-Cabinet member and three former governors among 11 new senators.

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Senate is awaiting the arrival of 11 new members — eight Democrats and three Republicans — who will join the world's "greatest deliberative body" when it reconvenes Jan. 9.

Among them are three former governors, one ex-Cabinet member, and a handful of one time U. S. representatives. But regardless of their previous high station in life, they're all neophytes now and as nervous about what lies ahead of them as the lowliest freshman who ever entered Congress.

Virtually all have already come to the nation's capital for an advance view of what lies ahead. What does a senator-elect say when he first sets foot at the Capitol?

"Gosh, I finally made it," remarked one, as he gazed at the white dome which towered above him.

"Never dreamed I'd get here," remarked another as he walked into the gold-furnished Senate chamber.

"I'm still way up on Cloud Nine," frankly admitted Thomas J. McIntyre, the Democrat who amazed the nation by being elected to the Senate from supposedly rock-ribbed Republican New Hampshire.

Libel Judgment To Be Reviewed

N.Y. Times, Clerics Aided by Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to review a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala., city official in a suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers.

The Circuit Court of Montgomery County made the award to L. B. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery. In addition to The Times, the judgment was against the Revs. Ralph Abernathy, Fred L. Shuttlesworth, S. S. Seay Jr., and E. Lowery.

Sullivan's complaint was based on an advertisement in The Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement, containing statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery, was placed by an organization called "The Committee to Defend Martin Luther King and the Struggle for Freedom in the South."

The Times, in appealing to the Supreme Court, contended among other things that the judgment violated the Constitution's guarantee of freedom of press. A separate appeal by the four ministers said the record was devoid of evidence of any authorization or consent by them for publication of the advertisement, or of any malice on their part.

The court also agreed to hear the separate appeal by the four ministers.

In its first business day of the new year, after a recess of three weeks, the high court handed down opinions in two cases.

These were:

A unanimous ruling that a Long Island, N.Y., fuel dealer is subject to the National Labor Relations Act although his only contact with interstate commerce is the purchase of oil that has moved across state lines.

An 8-1 decision that proceeds from a sale of mortgaged property may not be used to pay local taxes before payment of an earlier federal tax lien against the owner of the property. The case came from Buffalo, N.Y. Justice Douglas dissented.

Castro Still Reigns

When we read reports about Fidel Castro being in trouble in Cuba we think back to the days when wishful thinkers announced that Hitler was in a jam on the home front, that Mussolini was going to be turned out (and all this before Munich!), that Stalin was on his last legs in Russia.

Some of these stories we believed, because we wanted to believe them, but later we learned to take all of them with large grains of salt.

Maybe Castro is in trouble, as he should be. But make no mistake about the fact that he's still in control down there. That, like most dictators, he has had enemies from the moment he took power.

So, while he may be battling for his political life, as the "reliable reports" have it, chances are he is still fairly snug in his rug, that it's going to take more than wishful thinking to dislodge him from his island fortress.

Something Amiss

Something seems to be amiss in the realm of government economic statistics. Business conditions generally are regarded as on the upswing. Automobile sales are continuing at a high level. Steel output is inching upward, largely as a result of the auto boom. Christmas retail volume was good.

Yet, despite these and other indicators of favorable economic activity unemployment shows signs of climbing again. The unemployment rate for November rose three-tenths of one per cent to 5.8 per cent of the labor force. This is only a slight improvement over the 6.7 per cent unemployed two years ago, in spite of an increase in federal outlay of $20 billion in the last two years.

Secretary of Labor Wirtz's amazing admission that erroneous unemployment statistics were issued just before the November election notwithstanding, a great deal of business and government activity these days hinges upon various economic indicators. At the very least, discouraging notes concerning the employment, unemployment or gross national product rate serve as a pessimistic brake on the economy by creating hesitancy within various private sectors which might otherwise go ahead with expansion plans.

Critics have assailed the Labor Department for being too all-inclusive in its unemployment statistics. Housewives, for instance, who are seeking work to provide a second income for the family under certain circumstances are included as unemployed. So are recently graduated students who have not yet made an earnest attempt to obtain employment.

If such statistics are to be meaningful, and the current level of business activity certainly tends to belie Washington's statistical pessimism, an objective investigation of methods of compilation is called for. A survey might reveal that the figures are relatively valid, but that Washington's devotion to massive doses of deficit spending as a road to prosperity is responsible for distorting the true nature of the nation's economy.

It is hard to believe that record business levels and a high rate of unemployment go hand in hand. Has economic analysis slipped a cog?

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans may be buying fewer razor blades before the year is over.

It won't be because there'll be more beatniks, nor necessarily because that many more electric shavers will be in use—although the makers will be working hard to that end.

If the drop in sales of blades comes to pass, it'll be because the much-touted stainless steel blade is turned out in volume and catches the fancy, and the extra change, of the American male. He would be paying more but buying less.

The stainless steel blade, now mostly an import and a rarity, is due to be turned out by at least three American companies. And its sponsors say one blade lasts three or four times as long as do the ones most Americans now use. Presently the available new ones cost twice as much as the ordinary steel product.

How hard the makers of the stainless steel blade push this novelty depends on a number of things.

One is that the special type of stainless steel required is reported to cost at least twice as much as the metal from which the ordinary double-edged razor blade is made. Another is that it takes different kind of machinery to grind the stainless blade. A changeover would be costly.

A third factor is that the buyer of the newcomer supposedly would need a lot fewer blades—something the maker and seller will ponder. Sales increased four per cent in 1962 over 1961, perhaps reflecting the greater number of beards now that the war babies are coming of shaving age.

Americans now buy three billion blades a year. Of these only three to four million are imported, and a bare handful are stainless steel, mostly made in England or Sweden.

But the new blades have proved popular in Europe, capturing 15 per cent of the British market in one year, and are hard to get.

Three American companies announced within a three-day span in November they would start making competitive stainless steel blades.

Gillette said it will introduce its entry shortly.

American Safety Razor Division of Philip Morris said new equipment for such blades would be installed in its Staunton, Va., plant. Its British subsidiary, Ever-Ready, Ltd., has been developing stainless steel blades for the last four years.

Shick Safety Razor Division of Eversharp, which has been making the blades in its Swedish factory for the European market, said it would enter the U.S. market this year.

NEAREST THING to legalized mayhem was the East-West judo championship matches staged recently in Manhattan. 300-pound behemoths tossed each other around with delicious abandon, and the reporter for a dignified metropolitan daily was so carried away by the goings-on that his story next day began, "From hajime to soremade, the sound of the kiai echoed through the New York Athletic Club yesterday as 24 judo players strained for the tippon and settled for the waza-ari." We hope that's as crystal clear to you as it was to us!

Inside You and Yours

EDITOR'S NOTE — This article was written prior to Dr. Fern's death on Tuesday. The author was stricken with polio in 1955, but overcame this handicap to become a health columnist for King Features Syndicate. He was 37.

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.
Do you know the basic rules of first aid?
Here's a list based on the U. S. Navy's advice to hospital corpsmen.

1. Send for a doctor.
2. Be quiet, calm and quick. Don't rush around frantically. You want to ease anxiety.
3. Looking for ready-made first aid equipment wastes time. Improve!
4. Use an overcoat for a blanket; a broomstick for a splint; a clean handkerchief for a pressure bandage.
5. Keep victim lying down, with head level, while you look for injuries. Don't move him any more than necessary while examining.
6. Check his breathing. Artificial respiration takes priority. Any serious bleeding? Apply a pressure bandage directly over the wound.
7. Wide pupils, a weak, thready pulse and pale, moist, cold skin suggest shock. Keep victim comfortably warm — body temperature — with head slightly lower than feet. Watch out for too much heat.
8. Check for poisoning, open wounds, burns, broken bones and dislocated joints. Remove whatever clothing is necessary to locate all injuries; cut or tear away if needed. But guard against exposure — it increases shock.
9. Loosen tight collars, belts, garters, corsets, etc.
10. Splint suspected broken bones.
11. Turn victim's head to one side if vomiting; otherwise he might inhale some; give nothing by mouth if victim is unconscious, nauseous, or suffering from stomach, chest or abdominal injury.
12. Don't touch open wounds unless absolutely necessary.
13. Use extreme care when moving victim away from fire or possible explosion.

An injured backbone can cut the spinal cord, leaving permanent paralysis.

Sharp-edged broken bones tear through tissue. You don't want the jagged point of a fracture poking through the skin compounding the injury.

And most important: When in doubt, do nothing. It's better than doing the wrong thing!

Dear Editor:
As a prospective tenant of the proposed Jay Enterprises' development, I am interested in their conception of low-cost housing.

Circleville is in dire need of the development firm's proposal. Myself, like many others such as teachers and other persons of limited incomes, need modern housing that will fit within our budgets. The few new apartment houses in this community do not meet the demands of these persons.

I believe City Council and other civic leaders should do all within their power to welcome this development.

Remarks To Irk a New Parent

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks parents of a new-born baby get tired of hearing:

"I guess when you first saw him you wondered whether or not to put him under the front porch for three days to see whether he'd bark or cry."

"They all look funny at that age, don't they—kind of like little dried-up monkeys?"

"Don't tell me it's a boy! I'd never have guessed it."

"Well, if you say it's a girl, I guess you ought to know."

"Frankly, I think he looks most like your Uncle Henry—the one they caught embezzling from the bank."

"Honey, I'm not one to poke my nose into anybody else's business, but I've had half a dozen kids, and I never diapered one that way."

"How come she's got brown eyes? I heard that all babies were born with blue eyes."

"Now, remember, Frank, when they bring in the baby, praise it to the skies—no matter what it looks like. After all, that is their first one."

"I'm sorry, but according to the regulations, the baby can't leave the hospital until your husband pays the bill—only $262.50."

"Well, you've got one consolation—he's still 12 years and 11 months away from being a teenager."

"Hey, Joe, the office gang says thanks for the cigars you passed around. What they want to know is who picked that brand—you or your new kid?"

"I read some statistics saying it now costs up to $20,000 to raise a kid through high school—and then you still got college to consider. Where you gonna get that kind of dough, pal?"

"Only 6½ pounds? Why, in my day if we got one that weighed less than 8½ pounds we thought we were being shortchanged."

"I never had to get up to give any of my children a 2 a.m. feeding. But, of course, mine were all so sturdy."

"Frankly, Joe, the minute I laid eyes on this kid I knew he couldn't be anybody's but yours. Look at those ears! He'll never need a fan when he grows up."

Double Standard on Liberties

By John Chamberlain

When it comes to civil liberties or the "liberal" definition thereof, we seem to have a double standard.

To begin, when the supporters of desegregation invaded lunchrooms and chain stores in the Carolinas last year, civil libertarian students in far-distant Providence, R. I., started a scholarship fund for Negro boys and girls who had the misfortune to be expelled from college for taking part in the Southern sit-in demonstrations. And there was a rash of sympathy picketing in the North of chain variety stores which had been following segregation policies in their branches below the Mason-Dixon line.

For all sincere civil libertarians the author of this column, who happens to be the staunchest sort of believer in the free speech provision of the First Amendment, has a great deal of sympathy. Peaceful picketing in defense of free expression of opinion should always be supported. But why is it that the passion for civil liberties is seldom extended to those who fall afoul of the local police because of anti-Communist demonstrations?

The double standard in the defense of pickets by civil liberation groups has been very much in evidence ever since seventy right-wing demonstrators were pounced upon on December 15, 1962, for invading Klein's store in Yonkers. New York, with signs that called attention to goods on the shelves that had allegedly been manufactured in countries east of the Communist Iron Curtain. Among the invaders of Klein's were members of the New York Conservative Party. Although the anti-Communist demonstrators were, by all reports, dignified and orderly in their march on Klein's, detectives failed in a couple of instances to handle the invaders gently. Eight of the demonstrators were held for an hour and a half and arraigned later in the day on charges of disorderly conduct. A couple of days later the charges were amplified to include allegations of profanity and molestation of the Klein shelves, although onlookers had failed to note any evidence of such unseemly behavior.

Well, the trial of the anti-Communist demonstrators has been set for today, January 7, in Yonkers. Although we live in hopes, we doubt very much that the new National Student Movement, a coalition of college civil rights supporters who are busy planning boycotts against companies which

When we read reports about Fidel Castro being in trouble in Cuba we think back to the days when wishful thinkers announced that Hitler was in a jam on the home front, that Mussolini was going to be turned out (and all this before Munich!), that Stalin was on his last legs in Russia.

Some of these stories we believed, because we wanted to believe them, but later we learned to take all of them with large grains of salt.

Maybe Castro is in trouble, as he should be. But make no mistake about the fact that he's still in control down there. That, like most dictators, he has had enemies from the moment he took power.

So, while he may be battling for his political life, as the "reliable reports" have it, chances are he is still fairly snug in his rug, that it's going to take more than wishful thinking to dislodge him from his island fortress.

Something Amiss

Something seems to be amiss in the realm of government economic statistics. Business conditions generally are regarded as on the upswing. Automobile sales are continuing at a high level. Steel output is inching upward, largely as a result of the auto boom. Christmas retail volume was good.

Yet, despite these and other indicators of favorable economic activity unemployment shows signs of climbing again. The unemployment rate for November rose three-tenths of one per cent to 5.8 per cent of the labor force. This is only a slight improvement over the 6.7 per cent unemployed two years ago, in spite of an increase in federal outlay of $20 billion in the last two years.

Secretary of Labor Wirtz's amazing admission that erroneous unemployment statistics were issued just before the November election notwithstanding, a great deal of business and government activity these days hinges upon various economic indicators. At the very least, discouraging notes concerning the employment, unemployment or gross national product rate serve as a pessimistic brake on the economy by creating hesitancy within various private sectors which might otherwise go ahead with expansion plans.

The trouble with all these so-called reliable reports about the world's doom-stalked dictators, past and present, is that we automatically relax our vigilance, take our eyes off the ball, and soften our determination if we believe them to be true, or even partly true. One can always turn a sandpile of unreliable evidence into a mountain of truth if one tries hard enough, or is eager enough to be comforted by daydreams.

But a realist (and experience should by now have taught us that all other poses are false) must understand that hope often cannot separate fact from fiction, that the only thing one can truly rely on is an actual event, not a rumored possibility.

Castro still reigns in Cuba, and he will probably still be in command there a year from now if we're lured into believing that the Cuban people are on the verge of kicking him out.

Critics have assailed the Labor Department for being too all-inclusive in its unemployment statistics. Housewives, for instance, who are seeking work to provide a second income for the family under certain circumstances are included as unemployed. So are recently graduated students who have not yet made an earnest attempt to obtain employment.

If such statistics are to be meaningful, and the current level of business activity certainly tends to belie Washington's statistical pessimism, an objective investigation of methods of compilation is called for. A survey might reveal that the figures are relatively valid, but that Washington's devotion to massive doses of deficit spending as a road to prosperity is responsible for distorting the true nature of the nation's economy.

It is hard to believe that record business levels and a high rate of unemployment go hand in hand. Has economic analysis slipped a cog?

Injury List High, Too

In keeping tab on the rising traffic accident toll the emphasis naturally is placed on fatalities.

No continuing tabulation is made of injuries, partly because in many instances they're trivial. But in many other instances they are serious and leave their victims handicapped for life.

Persons injured in traffic accidents sometimes lie for months and even years in deep comas, doomed for the remainder of their days to a vegetable-like existence.

The bereavement and suffering caused the survivors in such instances may be even greater than would have been the case if deaths had occurred.

The tragic dimensions of the problem are by no means fully reflected by the death count alone.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans may be buying fewer razor blades before the year is over.

It won't be because there'll be more beatniks, nor necessarily because that many more electric shavers will be in use—although the makers will be working hard to that end.

If the drop in sales of blades comes to pass, it'll be because the much-touted stainless steel blade is turned out in volume and catches the fancy, and the extra change, of the American male. He would be paying more but buying less.

The stainless steel blade, now mostly an import and a rarity, is due to be turned out by at least three American companies. And its sponsors say one blade lasts three or four times as long as do the ones most Americans now use. Presently the available new ones cost twice as much as the ordinary steel product.

How hard the makers of the stainless steel blade push this novelty depends on a number of things.

One is that the special type of stainless steel required is reported to cost at least twice as much as the metal from which the ordinary double-edged razor blade is made. Another is that it takes different kind of machinery to grind the stainless blade. A changeover would be costly.

A third factor is that the buyer of the newcomer supposedly would need a lot fewer blades—something the maker and sellers will ponder. Sales increased four per cent in 1962 over 1961, perhaps reflecting the greater number of beards now that the war babies are coming of shaving age. Americans now buy three billion blades a year. Of these only three to four million are imported, and a bare handful are stainless steel, mostly made in England or Sweden.

But the new blades have proved popular in Europe, capturing 15 per cent of the British market in one year, and are hard to get. Three American companies announced within a three-day span in November they would start making competitive stainless steel blades.

Gillette said it will introduce its entry shortly.

American Safety Razor Division of Philip Morris said new equipment for such blades would be installed in its Staunton, Va., plant. Its British subsidiary, Ever-Ready, Ltd., has been developing stainless steel blades for the last four years.

Shick Safety Razor Division of Eversharp, which has been making the blades in its Swedish factory for the European market, said it would enter the U.S. market this year.

NEAREST THING to legalized mayhem was the East-West judo championship matches staged recently in Manhattan. 300-pound behemoths tossed each other around with delicious abandon, and the reporter for a dignified metropolitan daily was so carried away by the goings-on that his story next day began, "From hajime to sore-made, the sound of the kiai echoed through the New York Athletic Club yesterday as 24 judo players strained for the tippin and settled for the waza-ari." We hope that's as crystal clear to you as it was to us!

Do you know the basic rules of first aid?

Here's a list based on the U. S. Navy's advice to hospital corpsmen.

1. Send for a doctor.
2. Be quiet, calm and quick. Don't rush around frantically. You want to ease anxiety.
Looking for ready-made first aid equipment wastes time. Improve!

Use an overcoat for a blanket; a broomstick for a splint; a clean handkerchief for a pressure bandage.
3. Keep victim lying down, with head level, while you look for injuries. Don't move him any more than necessary while examining.
4. Check his breathing. Artificial respiration takes priority. A ny serious bleeding? Apply a pressure bandage directly over the wound.

5. Wide pupils, a weak, thready pulse and pale, moist, cold skin suggest shock. Keep victim comfortably warm—body temperature—with head slightly lower than feet. Watch out for too much heat.

6. Check for poisoning, open wounds, burns, broken bones and dislocated joints. Remove whatever clothing is necessary to locate all injuries; cut or tear away if needed. But guard against exposure—it increases shock.
Loosen tight collars, belts, garters, corsets, etc.

7. Splint suspected broken bones.
8. Turn victim's head to one side if vomiting; otherwise he might inhale some; give nothing by mouth if victim is unconscious, nauseous, or suffering from stomach, chest or abdominal injury.

9. Don't touch open wounds unless absolutely necessary.
10. Use extreme care when moving victim away from fire or possible explosion. An injured backbone can cut the spinal cord, leaving permanent paralysis.

Sharp-edged broken bones tear through tissue. You don't want the jagged point of a fracture poking through the skin compounding the injury.

11. And most important: When in doubt, do nothing. It's better than doing the wrong thing!

Remarks To Irk a New Parent

NE WYORK (AP)—Remarks parents of a new-born baby get tired of hearing:

"I guess when you first saw him you wondered whether or not to put him under the front porch for three days to see whether he'd bark or cry."

"They all look funny at that age, don't they—kind of like little dried-up monkeys?"

"Don't tell me it's a boy! I'd never have guessed it."

"Well, if you say it's a girl, I guess you ought to know."

"Frankly, I think he looks more like your Uncle Henry—the one they caught embezzling from the bank."

"Honey, I'm not one to poke my nose into anybody else's business, but I've had half a dozen kids, and I never diapered one that way."

"How come she's got brown eyes? I heard that all babies were born with blue eyes."

"Now, remember, Frank, when they bring in the baby, praise it to the skies—no matter what it looks like. After all, that is their first one."

"I'm sorry, but according to the regulations, the baby can't leave the hospital until your husband pays the bill—only $262.50."

"Well, you've got one consolation—he's still 12 years and 11 months away from being a teenager."

"Hey, Joe, the office gang says thanks for the cigars you passed around. What they want to know is who picked that brand—you or your new kid?"

"I read some statistics saying it now costs up to $20,000 to raise a kid through high school—and then you still got college to consider. Where you gonna get that kind of dough, pal?"

"Only 6½ pounds? Why, in my day if we got one that weighed less than 8½ pounds we thought we were being shortchanged."

"I never had to get up to give any of my children a 2 a.m. feeding. But, of course, mine were all so sturdy."

"Frankly, Joe, the minute I laid eyes on this kid I knew he couldn't be anybody's but yours. Look at those ears! He'll never need a fan when he grows up."

Double Standard on Liberties

By John Chamberlain

When it comes to civil liberties or the "liberal" definition thereof, we seem to have a double standard.

To begin, when the supporters of desegregation invaded lunchrooms and chain stores in the Carolinas last year, civil libertarian students in far-distant Providence, R. I., started a scholarship fund for Negro boys and girls who had the misfortune to be expelled from college for taking part in the Southern sit-in demonstrations. And there was a rash of sympathy picketing in the North of chain variety stores which had been following segregation policies in their branches below the Mason-Dixon line.

For all sincere civil libertarians the author of this column, who happens to be the staunchest sort of believer in the free speech provision of the First Amendment, has a great deal of sympathy. Peaceful picketing in defense of free expression of opinion should always be supported. But why is it that the passion for civil liberties is seldom extended to those who fall afoul of the local police because of anti-Communist demonstrations?

The double standard in the defense of pickets by civil liberation groups has been very much in evidence ever since seventy right-wing demonstrators were pounced upon on December 15, 1962, for invading Klein's store in Yonkers. New York, with signs that called attention to goods on the shelves that had allegedly been manufactured in countries east of the Communist Iron Curtain. Among the invaders of Klein's were members of the New York Conservative Party. Although the anti-Communist demonstrators were, by all reports, dignified and orderly in their march on Klein's, detectives failed in a couple of instances to handle the invaders gently. Eight of the demonstrators were held for an hour and a half and arraigned later in the day on charges of disorderly conduct. A couple of days later the charges were amplified to include allegations of profanity and molestation of the Klein shelves, although onlookers had failed to note any evidence of such unseemly behavior.

Well, the trial of the anti-Communist demonstrators has been set for today, January 7, in Yonkers. Although we live in hopes, we doubt very much that the new National Student Movement, a coalition of college civil rights supporters who are busy planning boycotts against companies which discriminate against minority groups in their hiring practices, will take any part in the defense of the eight anti-Communists.

There is, of course, a legal doubt that the First Amendment guarantee of the right of free speech can be used constitutionally to cover the invasion of private property. As the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, nobody has the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre unless there really happens to be a fire. The right to control behavior in a theatre belongs to the owners of the premises, who make the rules governing the usage of their own property. Presumably, the owners of the Klein store in Yonkers have a comparable right to lay down the "rules of the road" for traffic in their aisles.

But if the case for Klein's in Yonkers be conceded, the same constitutional dispensation should be accorded the owners of hamburger stands and drug store soda fountains in the South. If there is to be a limitation on the reach of the provisions of the First Amendment, that limitation should be the same everywhere. Contrarywise, if the defense of free speech carries into the interiors of chain stores and coffee shops in North Carolina on the ground that shops and restaurants are "public conveniences," then that defense of free speech should carry inside the portals of Klein's store in Yonkers. In a democratic republic, what is fair for one is—or should be—fair for all.

Human nature being what it is it is probably unrealistic to expect our civil libertarians to rise above the parochial perspective of "civil liberties for our side." As they recall it, Voltaire was talking through his hat when he said, "I wholly disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." They think Voltaire, that sly old fellow, had a mental reservation and they have consequently amended the Voltairean dictum to read: "I may have mixed feelings about what you say, but if you can prove to me that my ox has been gored I will defend to the death your right to help my side with your insistence on free speech for yourself."

Farm Roundup
Common Mart Competition
May Be Sharp

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of the European Common Market has raised the prospect that the group may be competing sharply with the United States for farm export markets within 10 years.

Vice Chairman Mansholt of the European Economic Community has said in a speech in Brussels that this area may have very embarrassing farm surpluses of its own by 1970. The common market is made up of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Mansholt said European farmers likely will increase production faster than demand in the coming years, leading eventually to surpluses. He said the common market farm policies should seek to avoid such a situation by encouraging shift of manpower from the land to non-farm jobs.

U.S. officials also have been pressing the common market leaders to emphasize industrial rather than agricultural programs. These officials contend the United States and other large agricultural nations can produce food for Europe much more economically than common market nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has reported red meat production during the first 11 months of 1962 totaled 25.6 billion pounds, an increase of 2.6 per cent over the like period of 1961.

Beef production led at 13.8 billion pounds, followed by pork at 10.2 billion, veal, 862 million and lamb and mutton 735 million. Lard production totaled 2.2 billion pounds, a decline of one per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau's weekly crop bulletin said today that snow coverings generally are protecting the winter wheat crop in the central and northern Great Plains.

It said another week of light to moderate rainfall further boosted small grain prospects in the southwestern two-thirds of Texas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today that world corn production this year is turning out to be slightly smaller than last year.

Total production was estimated at 7.3 billion bushels or 100 million less than last year. Smaller harvests in the United States, Europe and the Soviet Union were partly offset by larger crops in other areas. Half of the world crop was grown in this country.

HONOLULU (AP)—A bank employee in Honolulu has lost his job as a teller because he's allergic to money.

Clifford Fujiwara, 21, began sneezing uncontrollably after promotion to his telling job in Honolulu's American Security Bank. His doctor diagnosed that Fujiwara probably is the only banker in the world who can't stand to be around the green stuff.

This week Fujiwara is working in the bank's commercial department where money is listed in ledgers. He doesn't sneeze at that.

It's Mona Lisa
Day in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's Mona Lisa day in the capital today—an outpouring of artistic appreciation across the seas and across the centuries.

Whatever Mona, the young matron with the mysterious smile, might have thought of it all, there is no doubt that the man who did her picture, Leonardo da Vinci, would have loved it.

For artist Leonardo was also an inventor and gadgeteer of parts, and Mona's welcome to this country combines a strange medley of Renaissance splendor with the most modern conveniences.

For here was President Kennedy, in his great jet, coming from Palm Beach to introduce the 450-year-old masterpiece to Americans. Here were closed-circuit television eyes, manned by Secret Service men, guarding the lady in her burglar-proof vault, until the moment she was taken out to be hung against a tremendous swatch of burgundy velvet in the west sculpture hall of the National Gallery of Art.

The public gets to see her Wednesday and those in the know predict that maybe as many as a million people will figuratively leave their calling cards. The interest has been so great that the marble gallery will be open on many nights—an unheard of thing—during the nearly four weeks she will be on view here.

The interest in the painting—loaned by the French Louvre despite many forebodings in France—ranged from high to low. For example Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, was easily persuaded to leave his cluttered desk—to help out in tonight's introduction.

First event on the program was a small dinner—for 96—at the French Embassy. Ambassador and Mrs. Herve Alphand ordered an appropriate spread for President and Mrs. Kennedy, the chief justice, the Cabinet, selected diplomats and others.

Then the scene shifts to the National Gallery where some 1,200 other lucky ones—including members of Congress—will be waiting for the unveiling ceremonies at 9:45 p.m. Kennedy can be counted on to say words of gratitude to France, and felicitous remarks will also come from Andre Malraux, French minister of culture, a literary man and a strong right arm of President Charles de Gaulle.

Solons Cool
On Bow Ties

22 Wear Mustaches,
But No Chin Whiskers

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you think the incoming 88th Congress is turning a cold face to the once-prevalent chin whiskers and mustaches, you should see what it's doing to the bow tie.

Not only are there none of those cartoonists' favorites, the string-bow and the flowing Windsor, but there are precious few of the modern, squared-off or slightly pointed bows.

This intelligence is the result of painstaking research through the newly issued pocket directory of the 88th Congress which pictures every member.

Of course, some of the 500-plus male members of the Senate and House may sometimes desert the sober four-in-hand and sport a festive bow when off camera. But when before the photographer to be recorded for posterity, only 17 of them faced the lens wearing a bow.

On the other hand, 22 face camera and voters with mustaches—albeit most of these facial decorations are conservatively meager and would have been regarded as no whiskers at all a few congressional generations ago.

The Senate—once the stronghold of the more picturesque in neckwear—turns up only one bow-tie wearer. And even this statistic is a bit clouded.

Ike Sees No
Cuba Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba "wasn't any victory for us or a final settlement."

"We've still got Castro and communism," Eisenhower said in a copyright interview with U.S. News and World Report.

In forcing Soviet Premier Khrushchev to remove the missiles, the United States "was just telling this fellow, 'Don't push us any further. We're getting tired of it,'" Eisenhower added.

The former president, interviewed at his office in Gettysburg, Pa., before leaving on a California vacation, said he was delighted to see Khrushchev forced "to move back." The Communists, Eisenhower said, "will try anything, and if they see you are not going to resist, why, they'll just keep on pressing."

Steel Order
Climb Expected

January Shipments
Due To Top December

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Steel-makers expect their January shipments to be about 10 per cent higher than December's and to exceed 6 million tons for the first time since last May," Steel magazine reports.

This estimate prevails despite user reluctance to build inventories, the metalworking weekly added.

"Although steel users are talking about building inventories for strike protection, they're not expected to do much hedging before March or April," the magazine said.

Steel said reasons for the wait and see attitude are:

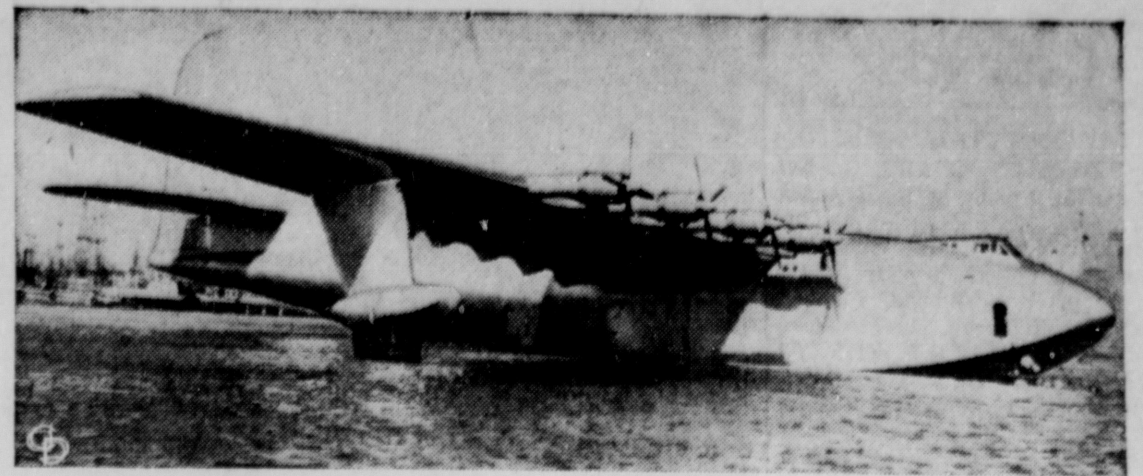

— "There's no possibility of a strike before July 31, a deadline that gives negotiators 30 days more bargaining time than they had last year.

— "The contract doesn't expire until only if either side elects to reopen on May 1 and 90 days of bargaining prove fruitless. (The present two year contract runs through June 30, 1964.)

— "Union and industry leaders seem interested in settling their differences before an inventory buildup starts."

December's production narrowly topped 8 million ingot tons and pushed the 1962 total to 98.3 million tons, up from 98 million in 1961, the publication noted.

Steel predicted ingot production this week would be higher than the 1,870,000 tons the magazine estimated the industry poured last week.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's reluctance to have pitched battles with Congress for his programs has caused some puzzlement and criticism. He's still reluctant.

But for this he has reasons, although they may not please everyone.

They can be put together from what he said in his hour-long television interview last month and what was told reporters covering his Christmas vacation at Palm Beach.

Some of the reasons are fear for his popularity if he got into tangles with Congress and, if he did, that his chances for re-election in 1964 would suffer.

He has a reluctance to "raise hell" if he's not sure of winning, and he doubts he could damage some of his conservative opponents because they're too well entrenched with their own voters back home.

Nevertheless, his favorable biographer, Professor James MacGregor Burns, said a week ago on television that Kennedy's place among the best presidents will pretty much depend on whether he "can solve his problem with Congress."

Burns indirectly suggested Kennedy, like President Franklin D. Roosevelt did, pays too much attention to the House and Senate committee chairmen and not enough to the rank and file in Congress.

Kennedy's tactics, while they actually involve the basic questions of presidential popularity and leadership, happen to be exactly the same as those used by his predecessor, President Eisenhower.

In both cases the tactics have been simple and obvious: Try persuasion mildly with Congress but, even though the programs get chopped up or slaughtered,

Russian Church Chief
Pleads for World Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Russian Orthodox Church appealed for world peace Monday as the church observed its Christmas with solemn, candle-lit services.

Alexei, 85, patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, called on all clergy and believers to pray for eternal peace.

He presided at midnight mass in Moscow cathedral. The cathedral was jammed with worshippers despite below freezing weather and intermittent snow.

nobody ever gets mad at anybody.

This worked all right for Eisenhower. He remained highly popular eight years and got re-elected without trouble. So far it's worked for Kennedy. He's highly popular although he thinks he may have trouble in 1964.

In his television interview Kennedy gave these views:

The 1962 elections didn't change much in Congress (his Democrats, far outnumbering the Republicans, still run the show) and that any time he offers a controversial bill he'll win or lose by three or four votes.

He said a President can get an insignificant program through all right, but "if it is significant and affects important interests and is controversial... there is a fight and the President is never wholly successful."

Since he feels the going will be tough and the outcome questionable on much he says he wants, then his statement—"There is no sense in raising hell, and then not being successful"—becomes a handy excuse for raising no hell at all.

At Palm Beach reporters were told:

He's glad the opinion polls give him a high popularity rating. But he thinks this popularity is readily translated into congressional action only when he speaks on major issues of national security.

When a chief executive has to go repeatedly to bat for controversial domestic programs, Kennedy is convinced, the popularity melts away and he comes a special pleader or party manager.

And, since he feels he faces a hard battle for re-election, he's in no mood to declare war on Congress, particularly one run by his own party.

And, besides, Kennedy has this attitude toward some of the committee chairmen who opposed or blocked major legislation last year: Well, they helped him on other things and will help him on other things again.

Eisenhower didn't let his popularity melt by warring with Congress. As of now, Kennedy doesn't intend to, either. But Eisenhower was in a different spot: For six of his eight years he dealt with a Congress run by Democrats.

The Congress Kennedy is dealing with is packed with his own party members.

Farm Roundup

Common Mart Competition May Be Sharp

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of the European Common Market has raised the prospect that the group may be competing sharply with the United States for farm export markets within 10 years.

Vice Chairman Mansholt of the European Economic Community has said in a speech in Brussels that this area may have very embarrassing farm surpluses of its own by 1970. The common market is made up of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Mansholt said European farmers likely will increase production faster than demand in the coming years, leading eventually to surpluses. He said the common market farm policies should seek to avoid such a situation by encouraging shift of manpower from the land to non-farm jobs.

U.S. officials also have been pressing the common market leaders to emphasize industrial rather than agricultural programs. These officials contend the United States and other large agricultural nations can produce food for Europe much more economically than common market nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has reported red meat production during the first 11 months of 1962 totaled 25.6 billion pounds, an increase of 2 per cent over the like period of 1961.

Beef production led at 13.8 billion pounds, followed by pork at 10.2 billion, veal, 862 million and lamb and mutton 735 million. Lard production totaled 2.2 billion pounds, a decline of one per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau's weekly crop bulletin said today that snow coverings generally are protecting the winter wheat crop in the central and northern Great Plains.

It said another week of light to moderate rainfall further boosted small grain prospects in the southwestern two-thirds of Texas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today that world corn production this year is turning out to be slightly smaller than last year. Total production was estimated a 7.3 billion bushels or 100 million less than last year. Smaller harvests in the United States, Europe and the Soviet Union were partly offset by larger crops in other areas. Half of the world crop was grown in this country.

Bank Employee Found Allergic to Money

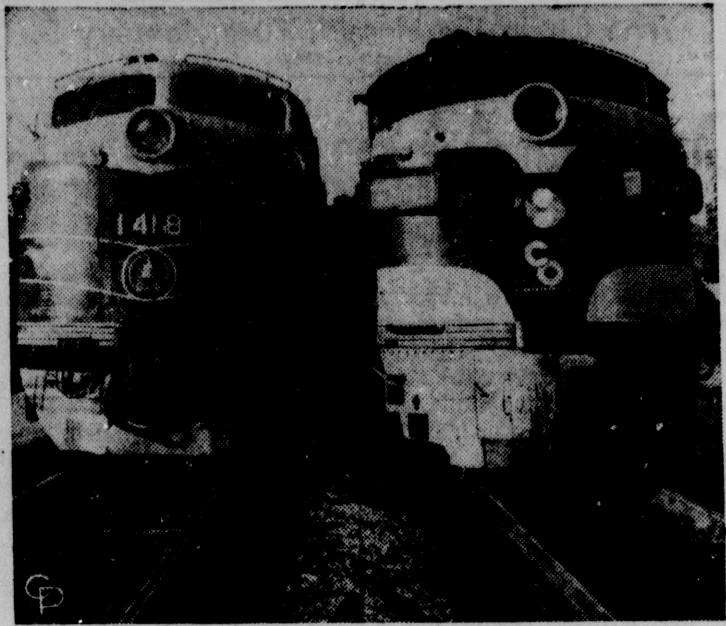

HONOLULU (AP)—A bank employee in Honolulu has lost his job as a teller because he's allergic to money.

Clifford Fujiwara, 21, began sneezing uncontrollably after promotion to his telling job in Honolulu's American Security Bank. His doctor diagnosed that Fujiwara probably is the only banker in the world who can't stand to be around the green stuff.

This week Fujiwara is working in the bank's commercial department where money is listed in ledgers. He doesn't sneeze at that.

It's Mona Lisa Day in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's Mona Lisa day in the capital today—an outpouring of artistic appreciation across the seas and across the centuries.

Whatever Mona, the young matron with the mysterious smile, might have thought of it all, there is no doubt that the man who did her picture, Leonardo da Vinci, would have loved it.

For artist Leonardo was also an inventor and gadgeteer of parts, and Mona's welcome to this country combines a strange medley of Renaissance splendor with the most modern conveniences.

For here was President Kennedy, in his great jet, coming from Palm Beach to introduce the 450-year-old masterpiece to Americans. Here were closed-circuit television eyes, manned by Secret Service men, guarding the lady in her burglar-proof vault, until the moment she was taken out to be hung against a tremendous swatch of burgundy velvet in the west sculpture hall of the National Gallery of Art.

The public gets to see her Wednesday and those in the know predict that maybe as many as a million people will figuratively leave their calling cards. The interest has been so great that the marble gallery will be open on many nights—an unheard of thing—during the nearly four weeks she will be on view here.

The interest in the painting—loaned by the French Louvre despite many forebodings in France—ranged from high to low. For example Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, was easily persuaded to leave his cluttered desk—to help out in tonight's introduction.

First event on the program was a small dinner—for 96—at the French Embassy. Ambassador and Mrs. Herve Alphonse ordered an appropriate spread for President and Mrs. Kennedy, the chief justice, the Cabinet, selected diplomats and others.

Then the scene shifts to the National Gallery where some 1,200 other lucky ones—including members of Congress—will be waiting for the unveiling ceremonies at 9:45 p.m. Kennedy can be counted on to say words of gratitude to France, and felicitous remarks will also come from Andre Malraux, French minister of culture, a literary man and a strong right arm of President Charles de Gaulle.

Solons Cool On Bow Ties

22 Wear Mustaches, But No Chin Whiskers

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you think the incoming 88th Congress is turning a cold face to the once-prevalent chin whiskers and mustaches, you should see what it's doing to the bow tie.

Not only are there none of those cartoonists' favorites, the string-bow and the flowing Windsor, but there are precious few of the modern, squared-off or slightly pointed bows.

This intelligence is the result of painstaking research through the newly issued pocket directory of the 88th Congress which pictures every member.

Of course, some of the 500-plus male members of the Senate and House may sometimes desert the sober four-in-hand and sport a festive bow when off camera. But when before the photographer to be recorded for posterity, only 17 of them faced the lens wearing a bow.

On the other hand, 22 face camera and voters with mustaches—albeit most of these facial decorations are conservatively meager and would have been regarded as no whiskers at all a few congressional generations ago.

The Senate—once the stronghold of the more picturesque in neckwear—turns up only one bow-tie wearer. And even this statistic is a bit clouded.

Ike Sees No Cuba Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba "wasn't any victory for us or a final settlement."

"We've still got Castro and communism," Eisenhower said in a copyright interview with U.S. News and World Report.

In forcing Soviet Premier Khrushchev to remove the missiles, the United States "was just telling this fellow, 'Don't push us any further. We're getting tired of it,'" Eisenhower added.

The former president, interviewed at his office in Gettysburg, Pa., before leaving on a California vacation, said he was delighted to see Khrushchev forced "to move back." The Communists, Eisenhower said, "will try anything, and if they see you are not going to resist, why, they'll just keep on pressing."

2 Hocking Teenagers Found Dead in Auto

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—The bodies of two Hocking County teenagers, missing since they left on a date Friday night, have been found in their parked car on rural Cedar Falls road near here.

Coroner Owen Yaw ruled that the victims, Kenneth Gang, 19, Rt. 1, Logan and his date, Lietha Cline, also 19, of Logan, died of carbon monoxide poisoning, probably about midnight Friday. They were found Monday.

TODAY In History

Steel Order Climb Expected

January Shipments Due To Top December

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Steel-makers expect their January shipments to be about 10 per cent higher than December's and to exceed 6 million tons for the first time since last May," Steel magazine reports.

This estimate prevails despite user reluctance to build inventories, the metalworking weekly added.

"Although steel users are talking about building inventories for strike protection, they're not expected to do much hedging before March or April," the magazine said.

Steel said reasons for the wait and see attitude are:

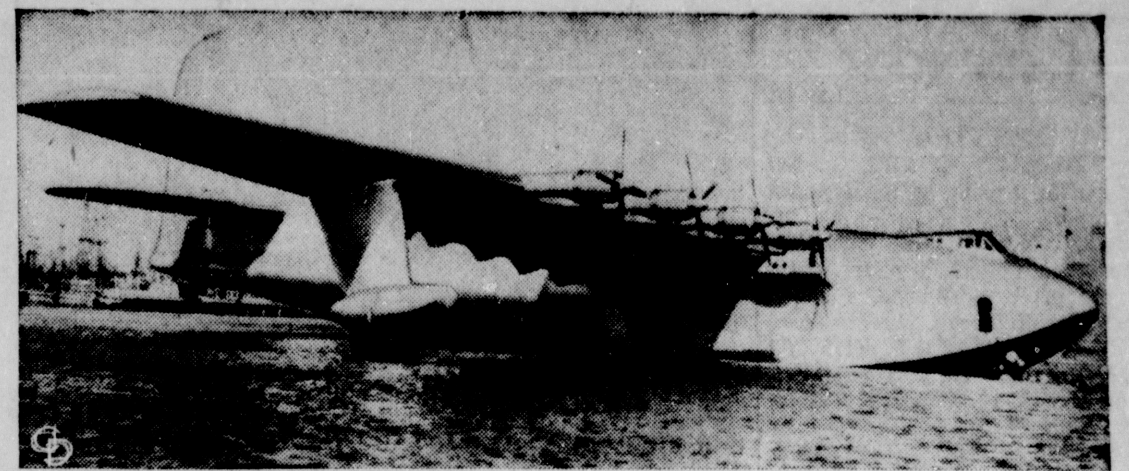

— "There's no possibility of a strike before July 31, a deadline that gives negotiators 30 days more bargaining time than they had last year.

— "The contract doesn't expire until only if either side elects to reopen on May 1 and 90 days of bargaining prove fruitless. (The present two year contract runs through June 30, 1964.)

— "Union and industry leaders seem interested in settling their differences before an inventory buildup starts."

December's production narrowly topped 8 million ingot tons and pushed the 1962 total to 98.3 million tons, up from 98 million in 1961, the publication noted.

Steel predicted ingot production this week would be higher than the 1,870,000 tons the magazine estimated the industry poured last week.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's reluctance to have pitched battles with Congress for his programs has caused some puzzlement and criticism. He's still reluctant.

But for this he has reasons, although they may not please everyone.

They can be put together from what he said in his hour-long television interview last month and what was told reporters covering his Christmas vacation at Palm Beach.

Some of the reasons are fear for his popularity if he got into tangles with Congress and, if he did, that his chances for re-election in 1964 would suffer.

He has a reluctance to "raise hell" if he's not sure of winning, and he doubts he could damage some of his conservative opponents because they're too well entrenched with their own voters back home.

Nevertheless, his favorable biographer, Professor James MacGregor Burns, said a week ago on television that Kennedy's place among the best presidents will pretty much depend on whether he "can solve his problem with Congress."

Burns indirectly suggested Kennedy, like President Franklin D. Roosevelt did, pays too much attention to the House and Senate committee chairmen and not enough to the rank and file in Congress.

Kennedy's tactics, while they actually involve the basic questions of presidential popularity and leadership, happen to be exactly the same as those used by his predecessor, President Eisenhower.

In both cases the tactics have been simple and obvious: Try persuasion mildly with Congress but, even though the programs get chopped up or slaughtered,

Russian Church Chief Pleads for World Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Russian Orthodox Church appealed for world peace Monday as the church observed its Christmas with solemn, candle-lit services.

Alexei, 85, patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, called on all clergy and believers to pray for eternal peace.

He presided at midnight mass in Moscow cathedral. The cathedral was jammed with worshippers despite below freezing weather and intermittent snow.

nobody ever gets mad at anybody.

This worked all right for Eisenhower. He remained highly popular eight years and got re-elected without trouble. So far it's worked for Kennedy. He's highly popular although he thinks he may have trouble in 1964.

In his television interview Kennedy gave these views:

The 1962 elections didn't change much in Congress (his Democrats, far outnumbering the Republicans, still run the show) and that any time he offers a controversial bill he'll win or lose by three or four votes.

He said a President can get an insignificant program through all right, but "if it is significant and affects important interests and is controversial... there is a fight and the President is never wholly successful."

Since he feels the going will be tough and the outcome questionable on much he says he wants, then his statement—"There is no sense in raising hell, and then not being successful"—becomes a handy excuse for raising no hell at all.

At Palm Beach reporters were told:

He's glad the opinion polls give him a high popularity rating. But he thinks this popularity is readily translated into congressional action only when he speaks on major issues of national security.

When a chief executive has to go repeatedly to bat for controversial domestic programs, Kennedy is convinced, the popularity melts away and he comes a special pleader or party manager.

And, since he feels he faces a hard battle for re-election, he's in no mood to declare war on Congress, particularly one run by his own party.

Besides, Kennedy has this attitude toward some of the committee chairmen who opposed or blocked major legislation last year: Well, they helped him on other things and will help him on other things again.

Eisenhower didn't let his popularity melt by warring with Congress. As of now, Kennedy doesn't intend to, either. But Eisenhower was in a different spot: For six of his eight years he dealt with a Congress run by Democrats.

Miss Mary Russell Becomes Bride of Mr. Samuel Miller

Miss Mary M. Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Russell, Erie, Pa., became the bride of Mr. Samuel H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Miller, Route 1, 7:30 p. m. Dec. 29, the 39th anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Gilbert E. Hoffmann performed the ceremony in Kingsley Methodist Church, Erie, Pa. The altar was decorated with large white poinsettias and Christmas greens and palms.

Mrs. Walter A. Jameson presented traditional organ selections. Given in marriage by Mr. John W. Soutar the bride wore a floor length gown of delustered satin fashioned with a bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves. The bell shaped skirt, enhanced with embroidery, featured a detachable chapel train. A queen's crown held her bouffant veil and she carried a semi crescent bouquet of white orchids and Christmas greens.

Mrs. John W. Soutar was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fish and Mrs. Robert Bartosh. They wore identical white satin floor length bell shaped gowns. Christmas red circlet headpieces held their circular veils and each carried a white fur muff with an arrangement of carnations and holly.

Mr. Kenneth L. Tomlinson served as best man and ushers were Mr. Paul Droste and Mr. Richard Gale.

Mrs. Russell chose for her daughter's wedding a royal blue sheath dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a silver and green brocade dress. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at Larson's Restaurant in Erie. Hostesses were Miss Barbara Browning and Miss Connie D'Angio, former roommates of the bride.

For a wedding trip through southern Pennsylvania and Philadelphia the new Mrs. Miller wore a beige sheath dress with stole and matching accessories.

The couple will reside at 831 Thompson St., Schenectady, 6, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Spartansburg High School, Spartansburg, Pa. and Erie Commercial College, Erie, Pa. Prior to her marriage she was secretary to the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D. D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie.

Mr. Miller is a graduate of Lynchburg High School, Lynchburg, O., and Ohio State University. He is a mechanical engineer for General Electric Co. at the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y.

Tangy Apple Desserts Full Of Good Taste

By ALICE DENHOFF

The colorful, aromatic apples piled high in our markets bring to mind the wonderful apple desserts that we all enjoy so much — good, simple, taste-filled delights, such as these delicious old-fashioned goodies.

OLD-FASHIONED APPLE DUMPLINGS

6 med. baking apples (Rome Beauties, Jonathans, etc.)
3/4 c. sugar
1 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
1/2 tsp. salt

Pastry, using 3 c. flour or 1 1/2 boxes pastry mix
6 tsp. butter or margarine
Milk

Wash and peel apples. Remove core, being careful not to cut through the blossom end.

Combine sugar with spices and salt.

Roll half of dough at a time into rectangle, 21"x7"x1".

Cut into three 7-in. squares.

Place apple in center of each; fill centers with sugar and spice mixture. Dot each apple with tsp. butter.

Bring opposite corners of pastry together over the top, pressing sides together firmly.

Repeat until all pastry and apples are used.

If desired, cut out pastry circles to place on top of apples.

Brush with milk and sprinkle lightly with sugar if desired.

Bake at 425 degrees F. for about 35 min. or until apples are tender and pastry is brown. Baking time depends upon the variety and ripeness of apples.

Serves 6.

CINNAMON APPLE COBBLER

6 c. sliced tart cooking apples
1 c. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg

2 tsp. butter or margarine
Pastry made from 1 c. flour

Combine apples, sugar and seasonings; turn into 9"x9"x2" baking dish. Dot with butter or margarine.

Cover with pastry rolled 1/4 in. thick, 2 in. larger than baking dish.

Trim, turn under and flute edge. Cut 2 or 3 gashes in top to allow for escape of steam.

Bake at 450 degrees F. for 10 min.

Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking 30 min., or until apples are tender and pastry is brown.

Serve warm or cold.

Serves 9.

If apples are very juicy, mix 3 tbs. flour with sugar to thicken juice.

QUICK APPLE BETTY

5 large (5 c.) sliced tart cooking apples

1/2 c. water
1-3 c. brown sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. nutmeg

1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
1/4 c. butter or margarine
1/2 c. bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/4 c. sugar

Pare and slice apples about 1/4 in. thick.

Cook with water, sugar and salt in covered saucepan until tender, but not until slices lose their shape.

Place half the apple slices in buttered 1-qt. casserole. Sprinkle with nutmeg and lemon juice.

Melt butter and mix with remaining ingredients.

Sprinkle half the mixture over apples in casserole.

Top with remaining apple slices and crumbs.

Bake at 425 degrees F. for 30 min. or until crumbs are brown.

Serve plain or with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Serves 6.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Fiddling Around?

DEAR ABBY: We became friendly with a couple around our age who recently moved across the street. My husband plays the piano and this lady plays the violin. For the past few months the lady has come over every Sunday and she and my husband lock themselves up in his room and practice for hours.

I used to serve them lunch on trays and thought nothing of it. Then her husband asked me if I had all my marbles. He said he had had trouble with his wife when she fell for a cello player and it started the same way. He says he can't control his wife but I should keep an eye on my husband. I know my husband and am not worried. They are working up a program for Fellowship Night at the church. Should I insult them by making accusations, or should I forget it?

MUSICIAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Maybe the lady did fiddle around with the cello player, but if you know your husband and are not worried, don't make any accusations. I would ask them to keep the door open however.

DEAR ABBY: Does a mother

Calvary EUB Crusader Class Members Meet

The Crusader Class of Calvary EUB Church met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeLong with 12 members and four guests, Tracy Ward, Brian Gerlach and Danny and David DeLong present.

Mrs. Marion DeLong, president, called the meeting to order. Devotions were given by Lewis Cook Jr. who based his theme on "The Upper Room" and discussed various ways it is used including as a daily Bible Guide. He read from Revelations and Psalms for Scripture.

Mrs. DeLong thanked all who had helped in any way with the nativity scene and taking boxes to shut-ins, also last year's officers.

Members are collecting all types of pumpkin recipes and will make up a pumpkin souvenir recipe book to sell at the Pumpkin Show this year.

A contribution will be given to the Easter Seal Drive in April. Mrs. Bill Dountz gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Louis Gerlach will serve on the decorating committee for 1963. The social hour was led by Mrs. Robert Ward. Prize winners were Mrs. G. H. Niswender, Mrs. DeLong, Mrs. Willis Flowers, the Rev. G. H. Niswender and Danny DeLong.

have the right to brag about her child because he was adopted? My sister says she can do it because the boy is not her own! She is boring in company because she brags about her son so much. How can I shut her up without putting a gag in her mouth? The boy is only two and they are talking about adopting another. I can't stand a lifetime of this.

BORED SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You can't shut her up, so don't try. Adopted children should be treated exactly the same as natural children, and their parents should behave the same as natural parents. Your sister probably knows this, but can't resist the temptation to brag—so she has found an "excuse."

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and have been engaged nine times. I don't know what's wrong with me but I can't seem to keep a guy interested in me long enough for it to develop into anything. The last one I was engaged to was 19. He said we'd be married in June, then he joined the Navy and took off and I don't even have his address. I loved him more than all the others put together. I suppose you think I'm too young to know what love is all about, but you're wrong. I grew up fast. How can I get a guy for keep?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: If you have been "in love" enough to become engaged nine times at the age of 15 you do not know what love is all about. New Officers Are Installed By County Unit

Standing before four lighted candles four Pickaway County homemakers were installed as the 1963 officers of the Home Demonstration Council. Mrs. Judson Beougher presided over the installation ceremony Friday afternoon at the extension office.

Mrs. Howard Stauffer, Route 2, Williamsport, is the new council president. She succeeds Mrs. Joe Vause, Route 1, Ashville. Mrs. Frank Baum, Route 1, Lockbourne, is vice-president. Mrs. Donald Balthaser, Route 2, Ashville, succeeded Mrs. Howard Stauffer as council secretary. Mrs. William Hoffman Jr., Route 2, Circleville, is treasurer.

The four lighted candles represent: The County Home Demonstration Council, The Ohio Home Demonstration Council, The National Home Demonstration Council and The Associated Country Women of the World.

These four officers will cooperate with the Home Demonstration Club councilors and the Home Demonstration Agent, Emma Lou Tackett, to keep the four lights burning.

Those present for the installation ceremony and the council meeting were: Mrs. Donna Beougher, Mrs. Ditha Dixon, Mrs. Cressie, Hafl, Mrs. Mary Hoffman, Mrs. Elsie Wright, Mrs. Mae Ross, Mrs. Dorothy Balthaser, Mrs. Rita Stauffer, Mrs. Madge Baum and Mrs. Emma Lou Tackett.

Miss Mary Russell Becomes Bride of Mr. Samuel Miller

Miss Mary M. Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Russell, Erie, Pa., became the bride of Mr. Samuel H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Miller, Route 1, 7:30 p. m. Dec. 29, the 39th anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Gilbert E. Hoffmann performed the ceremony in Kingsley Methodist Church, Erie, Pa. The altar was decorated with large white poinsettias and Christmas greens and palms.

Mrs. Walter A. Jameson presented traditional organ selections. Given in marriage by Mr. John

W. Soutar the bride wore a floor length gown of delustrated satin fashioned with a bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves. The bell shaped skirt, enhanced with embroidery, featured a detachable chapel train. A queen's crown held her bouffant veil and she carried a semi crescent bouquet of white orchids and Christmas greens.

Mrs. John W. Soutar was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fish and Mrs. Robert Bartosh. They wore identical white satin floor length bell shaped gowns. Christmas red circlet headpieces held their circular veils and each carried a white fur muff with an arrangement of carnations and holly.

Mr. Kenneth L. Tomlinson served as best man and ushers were Mr. Paul Droste and Mr. Richard Gale.

Mrs. Russell chose for her daughter's wedding a royal blue sheath dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a silver and green brocade dress. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at Larson's Restaurant in Erie. Hostesses were Miss Barbara Browning and Miss Connie D'Angio, former roommates of the bride.

For a wedding trip through southern Pennsylvania and Philadelphia the new Mrs. Miller wore a beige sheath dress with stole and matching accessories.

The couple will reside at 831 Thompson St., Schenectady, 6, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Spartansburg High School, Spartansburg, Pa. and Erie Commercial College, Erie, Pa. Prior to her marriage she was secretary to the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D. D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie.

Mr. Miller is a graduate of Lynchburg High School, Lynchburg, O., and Ohio State University. He is a mechanical engineer for General Electric Co. at the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y.

Tangy Apple Desserts Full Of Good Taste

By ALICE DENHOFF

The colorful, aromatic apples piled high in our markets bring to mind the wonderful apple desserts that we all enjoy so much — good, simple, taste-filled delights, such as these delicious old-fashioned goodies.

OLD-FASHIONED APPLE DUMPLINGS

6 med. baking apples (Rome Beauties, Jonathans, etc.)
¼ c. sugar
1 tsp. ground cinnamon
¼ tsp. ground nutmeg
¼ tsp. salt

Pastry, using 3 c. flour or 1½ boxes pastry mix
6 tsp. butter or margarine
Milk

Wash and peel apples. Remove core, being careful not to cut through the blossom end.

Combine sugar with spices and salt.

Roll half of dough at a time into rectangle, 21"x7"x1".

Cut into three 7-in. squares.

Bring opposite corners of pastry together over the top, pressing sides together firmly.

Repeat until all pastry and apples are used.

If desired, cut out pastry circles to place on top of apples.

Brush with milk and sprinkle lightly with sugar if desired.

Bake at 425 degrees F. for about 35 min. or until apples are tender and pastry is brown. Baking time depends upon the variety and ripeness of apples.

Serves 6.

CINNAMON APPLE COBBLER

6 c. sliced tart cooking apples
1 c. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
2 tsp. butter or margarine

Pastry made from 1 c. flour
Combine apples, sugar and seasonings; turn into 9"x9"x2" baking dish. Dot with butter or margarine.

Cover with pastry rolled ¼ in thick, 2 in. larger than baking dish.

Trim, turn under and flute edge. Cut 2 or 3 slashes in top to allow for escape of steam.

Bake at 450 degrees F. for 10 min.

Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking 30 min., or until apples are tender and pastry is brown.

Serve warm or cold.

Serves 9.

If apples are very juicy, mix 3 tbs. flour with sugar to thicken juice.

QUICK APPLE BETTY

5 large (5 c.) sliced tart cooking apples
½ c. water
1-3 c. brown sugar
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
¼ c. butter or margarine
1½ c. bread crumbs
¼ c. grated lemon rind
¼ c. sugar

Pare and slice apples about ¼ in. thick.

Cook with water, sugar and salt in covered saucepan until tender, but not until slices lose their shape.

Place half the apple slices in buttered 1-qt. casserole. Sprinkle with nutmeg and lemon juice.

Melt butter and mix with remaining ingredients.

Sprinkle half the mixture over apples in casserole.

Top with remaining apple slices and crumbs.

Bake at 425 degrees F. for 30 min. or until crumbs are brown. Serve plain or with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Serves 6.

Fiddling Around?

DEAR ABBY: We became friendly with a couple around our age who recently moved across the street. My husband plays the piano and this lady plays the violin. For the past few months the lady has come over every Sunday and she and my husband lock themselves up in his room and practice for hours.

I used to serve them lunch on trays and thought nothing of it. Then her husband asked me if I had all my marbles. He said he had trouble with his wife when she fell for a cello player and it started the same way. He says he can't control his wife but I should keep an eye on my husband. I know my husband and am not worried. They are working up a program for Fellowship Night at the church. Should I insult them by making accusations, or should I forget it?

MUSICIAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Maybe the lady did fiddle around with the cello player, but if you know your husband and are not worried, don't make any accusations. I would ask them to keep the door open however.

DEAR ABBY: Does a mother

have the right to brag about her child because he was adopted? My sister says she can do it because the boy is not her own! She is boring in company because she brags about her son so much. How can I shut her up without putting a gag in her mouth? The boy is only two and they are talking about adopting another. I can't stand a lifetime of this.

BORED SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You can't shut her up, so don't try. Adopted children should be treated exactly the same as natural children, and their parents should behave the same as natural parents. Your sister probably knows this, but can't resist the temptation to brag—so she has found an "excuse."

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and have been engaged nine times. I don't know what's wrong with me but I can't seem to keep a guy interested in me long enough for it to develop into anything. The last one I was engaged to was 19. He said we'd be married in June, then he joined the Navy and took off and I don't even have his address. I loved him more than all the others put together. I suppose you think I'm too young to know what love is all about, but you're wrong. I grew up fast. How can I get a guy for keeps?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: If you have been "in love" enough to become engaged nine times at the age of 15 you do not know what love is all about. You might have matured early (physically) but you have a lot of growing up to do before you are equal to the responsibilities of having "a guy for keeps." Slow up, little lady.

Illinois Seen Closing Out OSU Reign as Big Ten King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A three-year dynasty by Ohio State as ruler of Big Ten basketball is coming to an end with Illinois ready to step into the throne room.
After five straight humiliations dating to 1959, the Illini finally whipped Ohio State 90-78 Monday night and conceivably could have knocked the Buckeyes right out of the race.
The cool, collected Illini trailed by one point 37-36 at the half, but barged back to win going away.
The victory was the 10th in 11 starts for the Illini, and ran their conference record to 2-0. They rank No. 5 in the current Associated Press poll. Ohio State is No. 4.
Now Illinois must shake surprising Michigan and Indiana, both also sporting 2-0 marks. Michigan clobbered Iowa 88-67 Monday night with sophomore Bill Buntin connecting for 34 points. Indiana defeated Purdue 85-71.
Mississippi State, which shared the title with Kentucky last year, was upset by Alabama 77-72 in overtime. That ran Alabama's conference record to 2-0 and 9-2 over-all.

In other SEC games, Florida trampled Tulane 109-74, Auburn trounced Mississippi 79-44 and Georgia turned back Louisiana State in overtime 76-67.
Colorado, the Big Eight favorite halted Nebraska 75-47 with Ken Charlton scoring 18 points. That left the Buffs with a 2-0 conference record. Oklahoma and Oklahoma State also show 2-0 marks. The Sooners downed Iowa State 91-85 and State rushed past Missouri 81-56.
Richmond edged Furman 74-71 in a Southern Conference game, and South Carolina whipped Virginia 68-64 in the Atlantic Coast conference.
In the WCAC, San Francisco swept Pepperdine 71-60 and Santa Clara had too much height for Loyola of Los Angeles 66-55.
Seattle defeated Idaho State 79-72, Kansas State vanquished the Air Force Academy 58-42, Murray prevailed over Eastern Kentucky 89-78, Columbia routed Lehigh 74-66 and New Mexico polished off New Mexico State 84-65 in other major games.

Football Fatalities Decline; New Safety Controls Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football deaths decreased 29.7 per cent in 1962 but added safety controls could reduce the toll still further, the American Football Coaches Association was told today.
Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, who conducts an annual survey on football fatalities, reported 26 players died of direct and indirect causes last year. In 1961, the total was 37.
High school football accounted for 12 of the 19 deaths directly attributed to the game last year, Dr. Eastwood said. Six died in sandlot games and one in semi-pro.
He noted that, during the 21 years he has made the report 23.1 per cent of the 539 direct fatalities occurred in unsupervised sandlot games.
Indirect deaths in 1962 numbered seven, with heat stroke involved in five.
Dr. Eastwood compiles his information from news accounts and questionnaires sent to school and medical authorities throughout the nation.

Dr. Eastwood, a counselor at Los Angeles State College, also detailed recommendations he said would make the game safer.
"Our whole problem of pre-season training is tremendous," he told coaches here for the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention.
He suggested schools allow three to four weeks for pre-season training and ten to 20 days of spring practice for junior high through college teams.
Other proposals include a complete medical examination of players by a team physician before and during the season and the disqualification of all players who have had a serious concussion.
He also urged a competition schedule in high schools based on a comparable age-height-weight system.
Dr. Eastwood called for a de-emphasis on what he termed gangplay, vicious head tackling

Logan Elm, Teays Valley Set For Tilts in Respective Loops

Area high school basketball teams have nine games scheduled Friday and four Saturday.
Heading the list of encounters are the Teays Valley-Cedarville and the Logan Elm-Pikeeton games. Both are important league tilts.
The Vikings will have the advantage of the home floor as they battle to stay alive in the Darby Valley League. Last week the Cedarville quintet lost to Greenview, present loop leaders and now has a 2-1 loop slate.
Teays Valley has downed West Jefferson and Triad. Friday they lost to Madison South.
LOGAN ELM travels to Pikeeton to participate in what is probably the deciding tilt in the Scioto Valley Conference.
Paint Valley, rated before the season as the power in the league, has lost to both Pikeeton and the Braves and is out of the league race. Laurelville and Union, although both have the potential to pull a big upset, are experiencing poor seasons thus far.
Both Pikeeton and Logan Elm have Unioto and Laurelville remaining on their cage schedules but Friday's winner will have to be a top heavy favorite to win the conference.

The only Pickaway County League game scheduled is the Williamsport-Jackson game at Jackson. The Deers, owning league wins over Logan Elm and Darby, plus a previous non-league win over the young Wildcat team, go into the tilt a heavy favorite to cop the loop crown.
Darby invades Monroe in a non-league bout Friday. Other area games find Jonathan Alder at The Plains in a Darby Valley League game, Bishop Flaget at Centralia and Kingston at Bucks in Ross County loop action.
Laurelville meets Allensville in a non league contest and Amanda plays at Millersport in the Fairfield county league.
In Saturday night games Teays Valley travels to Fairfield Union, Darby hosts Bucks, The Plains of Mt. Sterling invades Southeastern and Berne Union meets Amanda-Clearcreek in a make up Fairfield County league contest.

Little Rock Accord Is Assured Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul, president and general manager of the Cleveland Indians, says Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has given assurances that Negro players with the Tribe's Jacksonville, Fla., farm club will receive equal treatment in Little Rock, Ark.
Paul had raised objections to the admission of Little Rock into the International League. He had said he would not vote travel funds for the Jacksonville club until Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus assured him Negro players would receive the same treatment as white players in Little Rock.
Paul said Monday Frick informed him the "proper assurances" had been received from Little Rock. He did not elaborate.
Eight players gained more than 100 yards rushing for Syracuse last season. Six of them will be back next fall.

Bearcat Coach Hails Wilson as Star Pivot

CINCINNATI (AP)—Coach Ed Jucker of the top-rated Cincinnati Bearcats says his basketball team will move the ball more into center George Wilson.
Jucker said Monday Wilson has developed new techniques for scoring under the basket and "has come along so fast, especially in the last three games, I think he's developed into one of the best pivots in the country."

Bobby Layne May Be Near Retirement

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Layne, the legendary Texan may be at the end of an illustrious football playing career that has extended over 15 seasons in the National Football League.
Coach Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers revealed Monday night that he has asked his long-time partner and confidant to quit.
"I have asked him to retire and personally, I think he will," Parker said. "I think Bobby has been the greatest quarterback I have ever seen in all my years in the NFL, but it is time he should quit. All great players must quit playing someday."
At the same time, Parker said he probably will return as coach of the Steelers next season but wouldn't say officially until his meeting with Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney later this week.
Layne, holder of all the major career passing records in the NFL, could not be reached immediately for comment.
But the controversial Texan has said in the past that he would probably retire when Buddy gave the word.
Thus, the fins seems apparent for one of the greatest coach-player alliances in NFL annals.

Junior Hi Tourney To Start Saturday

Scioto and Walnut will meet at 2 p. m. in the first of four games slated in the Pickaway County Junior High Tournament Saturday at Jackson Twp. school.
Top seeded Scioto has finished the regular season with a perfect 9-0 league slate. Walnut has won two and lost seven.
In the second game of the tourney Saturday Monroe, 1-7, and Saltcreek, 3-5, tangle at 3:15 p. m. Both teams have one more league contest to play and both meet Atlanta. On Wednesday the Saltcreek quintet meets the Atlanta team and on Thursday Monroe plays the unit.
Two other games are scheduled for Saturday. At 7 p. m. Ashville, 7-2, and Jackson, 5-4, play and Atlanta, 2-5, and Washington, 6-3, meet in the night cap.
THE TOURNAMENT continues with two games Jan. 19, the first slated to start at 7 p. m., two games Jan. 21, starting at 6 p. m., and the consolation and final tilts Jan. 26, starting at 7 p. m.
All games will be played in the Jackson Twp. gymnasium.
The top four teams in the league, Scioto, Pickaway Ashville and Washington were given seeded positions in the tournament drawing.

The top four teams in the league, Scioto, Pickaway Ashville and Washington were given seeded positions in the tournament drawing.

Darby, along with Pickaway, drew a bye in the first round of play. The tiny Trojans will meet the winner of the Walnut-Scioto contest and the Pickaway Pirates will play the winner of the Monroe-Saltcreek contest.

One contestant from each team represented in the tournament will participate in the foul shooting contest. The contestants will take their 25 attempts at halftime of their team's first tournament game.

The winner will be awarded a trophy.

ALSO SLATED to be awarded immediately following the final tournament game is the John McPherson award. This trophy goes annually to the most valuable eighth grade player in the tournament.

All ballots for the John McPherson award must be in the hands of the committee by the end of the first half of the last tournament game. The committee will be composed of the principal of Jackson Twp. School, Gordon Massie, and the coaches of the third and fourth place teams.

Former Tiger Coach Is at Warren Harding

Former Circleville High School basketball coach Dick Boyd is experiencing a successful season at Warren G. Harding Senior High School where he is head cage mentor.

Boyd's team owns an 8-1 record, losing only to defending Pennsylvania state champion Uniontown. The Warren quintet, paced by 6-7 Jim Gardner who is averaging 28.7 points per game, is 3-0 in the Ohio Big Eight conference.

Boyd came to Circleville in 1954 and served as reserve Coach until the 1956-57 season when he succeeded Red Courtney as head coach. In 1958 he accepted the position as head coach at Warren Harding.

32 Swim Team Members Travel to Lancaster

A total of 32 Circleville swim team members made the trip to the Lancaster YMCA pool Saturday, it was reported yesterday by Chuck Ransom, coach of the unit.

After 30 minutes of gymnastics the team was drilled on competitive starts and swims.

The next trip for the team is scheduled for Jan. 19. The bus will leave the high school parking lot promptly at 3 p. m.

Joe Lallande and Rene Duprey-Lopez, members of Lehigh's swimming team, come from Puerto Rico.

Bill Christian is in his 16th season as coach of Lehigh University swimmers.

Illinois Seen Closing Out OSU Reign as Big Ten King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A three-year dynasty by Ohio State as ruler of Big Ten basketball could be coming to an end with Illinois ready to step into the throne room.

After five straight humiliations dating to 1959, the Illini finally whipped Ohio State 90-78 Monday night and conceivably could have knocked the Buckeyes right out of the race.

The cool, collected Illini trailed by one point 37-36 at the half, but barged back to win going away.

The victory was the 10th in 11 starts for the Illini, and ran their conference record to 2-0. They rank No. 5 in the current Associated Press poll. Ohio State is No. 4.

Now Illinois must shake surprising Michigan and Indiana, both also sporting 2-0 marks. Michigan clobbered Iowa 88-67 Monday night with sophomore Bill Buntin connecting for 34 points. Indiana defeated Purdue 85-71.

In the Southeastern Conference, Kentucky got back on the right track by rolling over Vanderbilt, 108-2. The Wildcats, defending co-champions, hit an amazing 46 of 53 shots from the free throw line.

Mississippi State, which shared

the title with Kentucky last year, was upset by Alabama 77-72 in overtime. That ran Alabama's conference record to 2-0 and 9-2 over-all.

In other SEC games, Florida trampled Tulane 109-74, Auburn trounced Mississippi 79-44 and Georgia turned back Louisiana State in overtime 76-67.

Colorado, the Big Eight favorite halted Nebraska 75-47 with Ken Charlton scoring 18 points. That left the Buffs with a 2-0 conference record. Oklahoma and Oklahoma State also show 2-0 marks. The Sooners downed Iowa State 91-85 and State rushed past Missouri 81-56.

Richmond edged Furman 74-71 in a Southern Conference game, and South Carolina whipped Virginia 68-64 in the Atlantic Coast conference.

In the WCAC, San Francisco swept Pepperdine 71-60 and Santa Clara had too much height for Loyola of Los Angeles 66-56.

Seattle defeated Idaho State 79-72, Kansas State vanquished the Air Force Academy 58-42, Murray prevailed over Eastern Kentucky 89-78, Columbia routed Lehigh 74-66 and New Mexico polished off New Mexico State 84-65 in other major games.

Football Fatalities Decline; New Safety Controls Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football deaths decreased 29.7 per cent in 1962 but added safety controls could reduce the toll still further, the American Football Coaches Association was told today.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, who conducts an annual survey on football fatalities, reported 26 players died of direct and indirect causes last year. In 1961, the total was 37.

High school football accounted for 12 of the 19 deaths directly attributed to the game last year, Dr. Eastwood said. Six died in sandlot games and one in semi-pro.

He noted that, during the 21 years he has made the report 23.1 per cent of the 539 direct fatalities occurred in unsupervised sandlot games.

Indirect deaths in 1962 numbered seven, with heat stroke involved in five.

Dr. Eastwood compiles his information from news accounts and questionnaires sent to school and medical authorities throughout the nation.

Dr. Eastwood, a counselor at Los Angeles State College, also detailed recommendations he said would make the game safer.

"Our whole problem of pre-season training is tremendous," he told coaches here for the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention.

He suggested schools allow three to four weeks for pre-season training and ten to 20 days of spring practice for junior high through college teams.

Other proposals include a complete medical examination of players by a team physician before and during the season and the disqualification of all players who have had a serious concussion.

He also urged a competition schedule in high schools based on a comparable age-height-weight system.

Dr. Eastwood called for a de-emphasis on what he termed gangplay, vicious head tackling

Logan Elm, Teays Valley Set For Tilts in Respective Loops

Area high school basketball teams have nine games scheduled Friday and four Saturday.

Heading the list of encounters are the Teays Valley-Cedarville and the Logan Elm-Pikeeton games. Both are important league tilts.

The Vikings will have the advantage of the home floor as they battle to stay alive in the Darby Valley League. Last week the Cedarville quintet lost to Greenville, present loop leaders and now has a 2-1 loop slate.

Teays Valley has downed West Jefferson and Triad. Friday they lost to Madison South.

LOGAN ELM travels to Pikeeton to participate in what is probably the deciding tilt in the Scioto Valley Conference.

Paint Valley, rated before the season as the power in the league, has lost to both Pikeeton and the Braves and is out of the league race. Laurelvile and Unioto, although both have the potential to pull a big upset, are experiencing poor seasons thus far.

Both Pikeeton and Logan Elm have Unioto and Laurelvile remaining on their cage schedules but Friday's winner will have to be a top heavy favorite to win the conference.

The only Pickaway County League game scheduled is the Williamsport-Jackson game at Jackson. The Deers, owning league wins over Logan Elm and Darby, plus a previous non-league win over the young Wildcat team, go into the tilt a heavy favorite to cop the loop crown.

Darby invades Monroe in a non-league bout Friday. Other area games find Jonathan Alder at the Plains in a Darby Valley League game, Bishop Flagat at Centralia and Kingston at Buckskin in Ross County loop action.

Laurelvile meets Allensville in a non league contest and Amanda plays at Millersport in the Fairfield county league.

In Saturday night games Teays Valley travels to Fairfield Union, Darby hosts Buckskin, The Plains of Mt. Sterling invade Southeastern and Berne Union meets Amanda-Clearcreek in a make up Fairfield County league contest.

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Television writing-or much of it-has resolved itself into a series of scenes and bits of dialogue which are a sort of a secret code between the authors and audiences.

Just a line here or a camera shot there and the audience picks up the clue and is prepared for the next development.

There's the shot of the well-dressed wife, mixing herself a drink at the well-stocked bar of the lonely, lavish living room. Aha, you say, she's lonely. Hored, with an alcohol problem and her husband is either concentrating too much on his business or his secretary.

There's serious-illness gambit: the character coughs a bit, and somebody else says, "What's the matter, Jimmy? Aren't you going to do something about that cough?" In television land, no one ever coughs or develops a splitting headache unless it subsequently turns into something big.

There are also some comfy, familiar lines which can be thrown in: "John-what has happened to us, to our marriage?" "Doctor-you've got to do something. She's all I have in the world."

There are hundreds of more-al traditional situations and lines. But wouldn't we be lost without them?

CBS will have another talk with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower-an hour-long interview by Walter Cronkite to be shown Wednesday, Jan. 23. The tape will be made at the Eisenhower's winter home at Palm Desert, California.

CBS also plans another Kennedy special-"Dinner with the President"-on Jan. 31. President Kennedy will be shown accepting the B'nai Brith Anti-Defamation League award, in a program which will also include folk music and ballet.

Recommended tonight: "Dick Powell Theatre," NBC 9:30-10:30 (EST)-"Project x," space stuff with Michael Rennie; Garry Moore Show, CBS, 10-11 - Allen Sherman, of the hit record, "My Son the Folk singer," is guest-star.

Charles (Chuck) Medlar, who assisted retiring coach Joe Bedenk for the last 14 years, is now head baseball coach at Penn State.

IN THE COURT OF PROBATE, PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
Robert H. Huffer, Administrator of the Estate of Flora Bush, deceased vs.
Plaintiff,
Division of Aid for Aged, et al,
Defendants.

LEGAL NOTICE BY PUBLICATION
Edna McNeil, whose address is unknown and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, executors and administrators of Flora Bush, deceased, will take notice that Robert H. Huffer, Administrator of the estate of Flora Bush, deceased, on the 3rd day of January, 1963, filed his petition in the Probate Court within and for the County of Pickaway, and State of Ohio, to sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of certain real estate situated in the Township of Circleville, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio and being the undivided one-half thereof described as follows to-wit:

Being a part of the northwest quarter of Section No. 29, Township No. 11, Range No. 21 W. S. Beginning at a stone in the north line of a street as laid out by Josiah Renick S. 87 deg. E. 29.23 poles to the west line of Section No. 29, thence with the north line of said S. 11 T. S. 87 deg. E. 32 Poles to a stake, thence North 23 1/2 deg. E. 25 poles to a stone in the line of Josiah Renick's land; thence with his line S. 23 1/2 deg. E. 25 poles to a stone in the line of Josiah Renick's land; thence N. 21 deg. E. over land owned by said Pontius to Mound Street; the City of Circleville to be used as a gateway.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of the entire interest of said premises to pay debts of the decedent. The persons above mentioned will further take notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 9th day of March, 1963.

Robert H. Huffer, Administrator of the Estate of Flora Bush, Deceased.

Using a putter, Palmer hit sharply from 50 feet in back of and below the green. The ball responded like a rocket. It sped straight to the cup and plopped in.

There was even an echo as it reached the pin.

Wall encountered three straight bogies starting with the 15th and finished with a 74 for 279.

LaClair fell back with a 72 for 280. And Fairfield got into extreme difficulties with the trees on the 15th and quit quietly with a triple bogey 7 and a 70 for 278.

Redlegs Rookie Is Labeled Sure for Future Greatness

NEW YORK (AP)—The Youngster most likely to win a berth on the Cincinnati Reds is Tommy Harper, a third baseman who has all the earmarks of future greatness.

The 23-year-old Harper came to spring training last year as a second baseman, moved to third when Gene Freese fractured his leg and may be the Reds' regular left fielder in 1963.

Last season, his second in organized baseball, the young Californian was a standout performer with San Diego in the Pacific Coast League where he was optioned by the Reds early in the season. He batted .333, socked 26 home runs and drove in 84 runs. In addition, he led the circuit in runs scored with 120 and in bases on balls with 105. At Topeka in 1961, he was voted the Class B Three-Eye League's outstanding player.

"I've seen a lot of scouting reports," said Bill Rigney, manager of the Los Angeles Angels, "and always you see notations that this kid can't do this or that. But I've yet to see the word 'can't' on any report I've seen on Harper."

Harper played third base at San Diego. If he sticks with the Reds, he may be moved to the outfield to team up with fellow Oaklanders Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson.

Jesse Gonder, who had previous trials with the Reds and New York Yankees, is back. This time he brings outstanding credentials. The 26-year-old catcher was voted the PCL's most valuable player last year after a league leading .342 batting average and 116 runs batted in plus 21 home runs at San Diego.

Another with a previous Cincinnati trial but who is still a rookie is Sammy Ellis, the 21-year-old right-hander who owns one of the best arms in baseball. Ellis looked so good in training camp last spring that Hutchison decided to keep him around although the Youngstown, Ohio, lad, who received $60,000 to sign had pitched in only half a season in organized ball. As expected, the kid was wild and had to be sent down for more seasoning.

At San Diego, Ellis blossomed into a standout. He won 12 and lost 6 and reached the heights on Aug. 14 when he pitched a no-hitter against Tacoma. His debut with the Padres had been a two-hitter.

Despite his thin, gaunt appearance, the 6-foot-1, 175-pounder throws bullets.

Other San Diego graduates include pitchers John Flavin and George McWilliams and shortstop Hiraldo Ruiz. Flavin, 20-year-old left-hander, posted an impressive 12-2 record with the Padres following his promotion from Macon where he won 4 of 7 decisions.

McWilliams, a 6-5, 25-year-old right-hander with a good fork ball, is a bullpen hopeful, who compiled a 12-7 record appearing in 48 games for the Padres. Ruiz, a switch hitter, batted .279 and led the league with 40 stolen bases.

Mel Queen, a 20-year-old outfielder who hit .275 with 93 runs batted in at Macon, and Larry Himes, a 22-year-old catcher who batted .252 with the same team are probably a year or two away.

The Reds' rookie list includes three draftees. Bob Heffner, a 24-year-old right-hander, who had a 13-10 record, a 2.68 ERA and 234 strikeouts in 215 innings at York in the New York-Penn League, cost the club $25,000. Right-hander Barry Shollenger, 21, 16-5 won and lost, 2.14 ERA and 226 strikeouts in 185 innings at Waterloo, cost $12,000. Catcher Tom Tschinski, 17 and .238 at Daytona Beach, cost $8,000.

Here's Johnny at age one after first operation . . . and today, leading a normal life at age four.

Ohio Hardwood Champions To Give Up Titles

Both Class A, AA Kings Appear To Be Weaker This Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Taft and New Lebanon Dixie, rated off their early-season records, figure to surrender their state high school basketball championships—but Ohio is filled with worthy aspirants to their thrones.

Taft, the Class AA king, has lost three of nine games. Dixie, the A champ, has been dumped twice in seven starts.

Rolling along toward tournament time with unblemished records are such standouts as Cleveland East Tech, Middletown, Dayton Chaminade, Kettering Fairmont, Marietta, Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Mansfield St. Peter and several others in Class AA.

The unblemished Class A clubs include Waynesfield, Bladensburg, Beaver of Pike County, Clyde and Mount Gilead. Ayersville's Pilots, 1957 and 1961 state champs and semi-finalists last year, lost 46-42 to Archbold Friday for their fourth setback in 12 starts—three of the defeats by two-point margins.

Stuebenville's Big Red, Urbana and Dayton Colonel White were among the Class AA teams to fall for the first time last weekend. Stuebenville was a 62-57 victim of Weirton, Pa.; Urbana's 33-game Central Buckeye League string was snapped 65-57 by Mount Vernon, and Colonel White was nipped 72-48 by Chaminade.

Kettering Fairmont (11-0) has won 30 straight in the Southwest Buckeye loop. Dayton Belmont made it 8-0 with a 50-49 squeaker over Toledo Libbey Saturday.

Bob Klopfer of Germantown and Don Rather of Jandusky wasted scoring spurges. Bob's 40 were futile in a 78-68 loss to Jefferson, and Don's 28 came in a 61-57 loss to Mansfield. But Milt Pitts of Mansfield St. Peter made his 44 count in the 106-63 win over Ontario.

Dayton sings the praises of 6-foot-6 Ken Calloway who scored 26 in Chaminade's 72-48 victory over Colonel White.

Paint Valley of Ross County, regional qualifier last year, has four of five starters back for a 7-2 record. The team is first in the Ross County League with 4-0, last in the Scioto Valley Conference with 0-2.

Worthington defeated Mount Vernon 72-41; Urbana beat Worthington 57-31; Mount Vernon beat Urbana 65-57.

Bladensburg (9-0) has hit the 99-point mark twice and is averaging 74.5. Wakeman Western Reserve (5-1) has a top college prospect in 6-8 Mike Hyde, who is averaging 25.5. Norwalk (8-0) has another in 6-8 John Schroeder, who is averaging 27.4.

Jim Gardner, 6-7 Warren Panther senior, is averaging 28.7, has a single-game record of 40 and a career total of 995. The Panthers (8-1) lost only to Uniontown, the Pennsylvania champ, 54-48 in the Farrell, Pa., Christmas tourney.

Martins Ferry and St. Clairsville played the longest game in Ohio cage history Friday. They were tied 63-63 at the regulation finish and needed nine overtimes before Ferry won 69-67 on a jump shot from the corner by Mike Lucas. The tilt lasted 59 minutes, just 5 under the two-game time.

Oak Hill ran into once-beaten Jackson and froze the ball at the outset. The Oaks stayed in the stall as Jackson pecked away at the basket, and didn't score until the Ironmen led 28-0 with 4:31 to go. Led by standout Ed Sprigg's 15 points, Jackson won 32-6.

BACK TO SCHOOL—Thinking about that Rose Bowl game and the 1963 season, perhaps, is Pete Beathard, star quarterback of the undefeated USC team which ruled as national champs and won the Rose Bowl game. Pete tossed four touchdown passes in the big one and will be back next year.

Fish Drank Like People

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — One of the largest "highballs" was mixed on the Kentucky River in 1949 when a seven-story whisky warehouse collapsed during a fire in Anderson County. Barrels of fine Bourbon hurtled into the water and fishermen followed up. They didn't get the whisky, but they caught thousands of intoxicated fish leaping through the waters.

The Minnesota Twins led in complete games in the American League last season with 53. The Los Angeles Angel pitchers were lowest with only 23.

Twenty-nine victories in a row, 11 this season, 66 games without a defeat at home and six consecutive weeks as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team. That Cincinnati's envious record today as the Bearcats again stand on top in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Bearcats swept the boards, getting all 44 first-place votes from the panel of sports writers and sportscasters for a perfect 440 points.

Loyola of Chicago's high-scoring Ramblers clung to the runner-up spot, but three members of last week's top ten were knocked out of the elite group while undefeated Georgia Tech, once-beaten North Carolina and thrice-beaten West Virginia moved into the select circle.

The ousted teams were Kentucky, UCLA and Auburn. The top ten, based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc., with first-place votes in parentheses.

1. Cincinnati (44) 11-0 440
2. Loyola Chicago 13-0 378
3. Arizona State 12-1 256
4. Ohio State 9-1 229
5. Illinois 9-1 220
6. Duke 10-2 220
7. Georgia Tech 9-0 113
8. Wichita 9-3 58
9. West Virginia 8-3 52
10. North Carolina 6-1 51

Ohio Hardwood Champions To Give Up Titles

Both Class A, AA Kings Appear To Be Weaker This Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Taft and New Lebanon Dixie, rated off their early-season records, figure to surrender their state high school basketball championships—but Ohio is filled with worthy aspirants to their thrones.

Taft, the Class AA king, has lost three of nine games. Dixie, the A champ, has been dumped twice in seven starts.

Rolling along toward tournament time with unblemished records are such standouts as Cleveland East Tech, Middletown, Dayton Chaminade, Kettering Fairmont, Marietta, Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Mansfield St. Peter and several others in Class AA.

The unblemished Class A clubs include Waynesfield, Bladensburg, Beaver of Pike County, Clyde and Mount Gilead. Ayersville's Pilots, 1957 and 1951 state champs and semi-finalists last year, lost 46-42 to Archbold Friday for their fourth setback in 12 starts—three of the defeats by two-point margins.

Staubenville's Big Red, Urbana and Dayton Coonel White were among the Class AA teams to fall for the first time last weekend. Staubenville was a 62-57 victim of Weirton, Pa.; Urbana's 33-game Central Buckeye League string was snapped 65-57 by Mount Vernon, and Coonel White was nipped 72-48 by Chaminade.

Kettering Fairmont (11-0) has won 30 straight in the Southwest Buckeye loop. Dayton Belmont made it 8-0 with a 50-49 squeaker over Toledo Libbey Saturday.

Bob Klopfer of Germantown and Don Rather of Jandusky wasted scoring spurges. Bob's 40 were futile in a 78-68 loss to Jefferson, and Don's 28 came in a 61-57 loss to Mansfield. But Milt Pitts of Mansfield St. Peter made his 44 count in the 106-63 win over Ontario.

Dayton sings the praises of 6-foot-6 Ken Calloway who scored 26 in Chaminade's 72-48 victory over Coonel White.

Paint Valley of Ross County, regional qualifier last year, has four of five starters back for a 7-2 record. The team is first in the Ross County League with 4-0, last in the Scioto Valley Conference with 0-2.

Worthington defeated Mount Vernon 72-41; Urbana beat Worthington 57-31; Mount Vernon beat Urbana 65-57.

Bladensburg (9-0) has hit the 90-point mark twice and is averaging 74.5. Wakeman Western Reserve (5-1) has a top college prospect in 6-8 Mike Hyde, who is averaging 25.5. Norwalk (8-0) has another in 6-8 John Schroeder, who is averaging 27.4.

Jim Gardner, 6-7 Warren Panther senior, is averaging 28.7, has a single-game record of 40 and a career total of 995. The Panthers (8-1) lost only to Uniontown, the Pennsylvania champ, 54-48 in the Farrell, Pa., Christmas tourney.

Martins Ferry and St. Clairsville played the longest game in Ohio cage history Friday. They were tied 63-63 at the regulation finish and needed nine overtimes before Ferry won 69-67 on a jump shot from the corner by Mike Lucas. The tilt lasted 59 minutes, just 5 under the two-game time.

Oak Hill ran into once-beaten Jackson and froze the ball at the outset. The Oaks stayed in the stall as Jackson pecked away at the basket, and didn't score until the Ironmen led 28-0 with 4:31 to go. Led by standout Ed Sprigg's 15 points, Jackson won 32-6.

BACK TO SCHOOL—Thinking about that Rose Bowl game and the 1963 season, perhaps, is Pete Beathard, star quarterback of the undefeated USC team which ruled as national champs and won the Rose Bowl game. Pete tossed four touchdown passes in the big one and will be back next year.

Fish Frank Like People
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — One of the largest "highballs" was mixed on the Kentucky River in 1949 when a seven-story whisky warehouse collapsed during a fire in Anderson County. Barrels of fine Bourbon hurtled into the water and fishermen followed up. They didn't get the whisky, but they caught thousands of intoxicated fish leaping through the waters.

The Minnesota Twins led in complete games in the American League last season with 53. The Los Angeles Angel pitchers were lowest with only 23.

Prosecutor To Probe Shooting Case

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP) — A conference was planned today by the Adams County prosecutor and the family of William Stepp, 27, of Dayton on charges in a shooting that left Stepp hurt critically. Sheriff Eugene Fulton said James Branham, 45, of nearby Peebles surrendered after the shooting Saturday and was in County Jail. No charge was filed immediately.

The sheriff said the shooting apparently grew out of a brawl earlier in the day between Stepp and Branham's son.

The fight left young Branham injured seriously enough to require medical treatment, the sheriff said, and the senior Branham went looking for Stepp, a former Peebles resident.

The sheriff said witnesses indicated the older Branham met Stepp in a restaurant and fired three times after Stepp threatened to punch him.

Stepp was wounded twice in the chest and once in the arm.

Juvenile Court Hears 3 Cases

Pickaway County Juvenile Court processed three cases during Friday's weekly session of court hearings. Cases were:

Wesley Leroy Amos, 17, of 207 W. Corwin St., appeared before Judge Guy Cline on charges of operating an unsafe vehicle. His operator's license was suspended for six months. Judge Cline noted that this was his third traffic offense. Amos was also fined $25 and costs.

A 17-year-old Logan boy, arrested by the Sheriff's Department for stealing gas from a parked auto, was transferred to Hocking County juvenile authorities.

The third case involved a 17-year-old Columbus girl arrested for driving without an operator's license. Her case was transferred to Franklin County for disposition. She was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Inauguration Ceremonies Due Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Governor-elect James A. Rhodes will be sworn in on the west steps of the Statehouse Monday after five other Republicans elected Nov. 6 have taken their oaths of office, State GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss says.

The ceremonies will be moved into the Statehouse rotunda if the weather is bad.

Bliss said the six officials will be sworn into office in this order: Treasurer-elect John D. Herbert; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown; Auditor-elect Roger W. Tracy; Atty. Gen.-elect William B. Saxbe; Lt. Gov.-elect John W. Brown, and Rhodes.

Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court will administer the oath to Rhodes who will deliver a five-minute inaugural address.

After the ceremonies, scheduled to start at 11 a.m., a Republican inaugural luncheon will be held at Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Income Tax Ban Ordered

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jack Thompson of nearby Loveland has won a court order banning collection of Cincinnati's one per cent income tax from his pay until his tax suit is heard.

Judge Louis Schneider granted the Common Pleas Court injunction Monday.

Thompson sued after suburban Loveland started collection of its own one per cent income tax from residents.

Thompson, who works in Cincinnati, claimed payment of both taxes would be illegal under state law.

Loveland and other suburban communities have tried unsuccessfully for several years to clarify the rights of their residents who pay Cincinnati's income tax because they work in Cincinnati.

Ohio Bell To Spend $87.7 Million in '63

CLEVELAND (AP) — A record-breaking $87.7 million will be spent by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. this year for expansion and improvements throughout the state.

This was announced Monday by Frederick R. Eckley, president of the utility. He said $28 million, also an all-time high, is earmarked for projects in the Cleveland metropolitan area.

He gave no breakdown on expenditures planned in other areas. The company explained that they would be announced later in the communities involved.

Probate Court Handles 314 Cases in 1962

Pickaway County Probate Court's annual report today listed a total of 314 cases filed during the year.

More than half of the total cases listed were 156 estate matters, which included 81 applications to probate wills.

Thirty persons were committed to institutions as mentally ill by the court according to the report and 28 guardianships were processed during 1962.

Other cases handled by the Probate Court last year included:

Adoptions, 13; birth registrations, 35; authenticated wills, 5; mentally retarded, 3; authenticated real estate, 3; birth corrections, 18; trusts, 2; and no administration, 16.

The court also issued 206 marriage licenses in 1962.

Klump Case To Hinge on Court Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Outcome of a court hearing in Maryland and a recommendation from the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission may determine whether Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will take further action in the Edythe Klump murder case before he leaves office Monday.

The court hearing, in Rockville, Md., is scheduled Wednesday. It involves a bid by Ohio authorities to obtain a deposition from William Bergen, former husband of the Cincinnati woman Mrs. Klump was convicted of murdering.

Mrs. Klump was sentenced in 1958 to die in the electric chair, but DiSalle commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. She claims Bergen did not tell the truth at her trial.

DiSalle told newsmen Monday he also is awaiting a recommendation from the Pardon and Parole Commission and will take no action on Mrs. Klump's pardon plea until the recommendation is in hand.

AP Writer Heads Legislative Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Reed D. Smith, veteran Associated Press political writer, was elected today to a third term as president of the Ohio Legislative Correspondents Association. Terms are two years.

Mechanical Pencil Stabs 5-Year-Old

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP) — Like most curious children of her age, 5-year-old Diana Cole reached up to grab a mechanical pencil from the kitchen table of her home in nearby Willowick. But the pencil stabbed into her chest.

The girl underwent successful surgery at Euclid-Glenview Hospital Sunday. She is listed in satisfactory condition today.

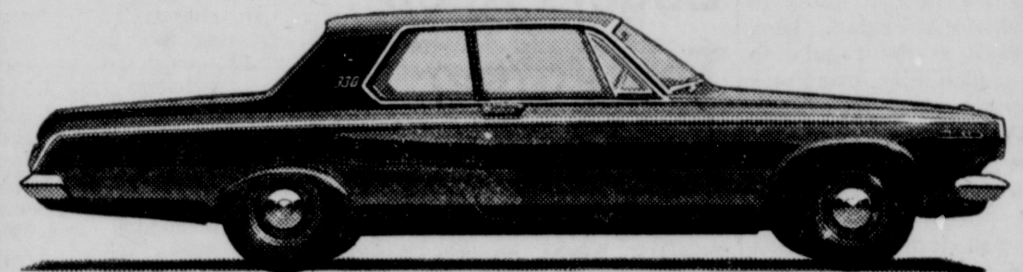

Doctors said the pencil cut into a main artery leading to her heart and missed the heart itself by only a half inch.

Prosecutor To Probe Shooting Case

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—A conference was planned today by the Adams County prosecutor and the family of William Stepp, 27, of Dayton on charges in a shooting that left Stepp hurt critically. Sheriff Eugene Fulton said James Branham, 45, of nearby Peebles surrendered after the shooting Saturday and was in County Jail. No charge was filed immediately.

The sheriff said the shooting apparently grew out of a brawl earlier in the day between Stepp and Branham's son.

The fight left young Branham injured seriously enough to require medical treatment, the sheriff said, and the senior Branham went looking for Stepp, a former Peebles resident.

The sheriff said witnesses indicated the older Branham met Stepp in a restaurant and fired three times after Stepp threatened to punch him.

Stepp was wounded twice in the chest and once in the arm.

Juvenile Court Hears 3 Cases

Pickaway County Juvenile Court processed three cases during Friday's weekly session of court hearings. Cases were:

Wesley Leroy Amos, 17, of 207 W. Corwin St., appeared before Judge Guy Cline on charges of operating an unsafe vehicle. His operator's license was suspended for six months. Judge Cline noted that this was his third traffic offense. Amos was also fined $25 and costs.

A 17-year-old Logan boy, arrested by the Sheriff's Department for stealing gas from a parked auto, was transferred to Hocking County juvenile authorities.

The third case involved a 17-year-old Columbus girl arrested for driving without an operator's license. Her case was transferred to Franklin County for disposition. She was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Ohio Legislature Opens Its Session without Printer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The new Ohio Legislature is faced with the grave problem that it has resolutions — and stuff — everywhere, but not a drop of ink. For the first time in a half century, the legislature doesn't have a printer.

Nor could Senate Republicans

Inauguration Ceremonies Due Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Governor-elect James A. Rhodes will be sworn in on the west steps of the Statehouse Monday after five other Republicans elected Nov. 6 have taken their oaths of office. State GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss says.

The ceremonies will be moved into the Statehouse rotunda if the weather is bad.

Bliss said the six officials will be sworn into office in this order: Treasurer-elect John D. Herbert; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown; Auditor-elect Roger W. Tracy; Attorney General-elect William B. Saxbe; Lt. Governor-elect John W. Brown; and Rhodes.

Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court will administer the oath to Rhodes who will deliver a five-minute inaugural address.

After the ceremonies, scheduled to start at 11 a.m., a Republican inaugural luncheon will be held at Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Income Tax Ban Ordered

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jack Thompson of nearby Loveland has won a court order banning collection of Cincinnati's one per cent income tax from his pay until his tax suit is heard.

Judge Louis Schneider granted the Common Pleas Court injunction Monday.

Thompson sued after suburban Loveland started collection of its own one per cent income tax from residents.

Thompson, who works in Cincinnati, claimed payment of both taxes would be illegal under state law.

Loveland and other suburban communities have tried unsuccessfully for several years to clarify the rights of their residents who pay Cincinnati's income tax because they work in Cincinnati.

Monday night make up their minds to authorize emergency authority to the clerks of the two Houses to arrange a stopgap printing setup pending disposition of a lawsuit over the legislative printing contract.

As a result, none of the mass of printing accumulated during the opening day of the session Monday can be done. Not even the daily journals of the two houses can be printed.

The F. J. Heer Printing Co. of Columbus, until recently headed by Walter Heer who has just retired after many years as Franklin County (Columbus) Democratic chairman, has done most of the state's printing for 50 years.

Suddenly, a few weeks ago, the Columbus Blank Book Co. submitted a bid to break the Heer monopoly on legislative printing. The bid of Columbus Blank Book was about $25,000—or 8 per cent—below Heer's.

The contract was awarded to Columbus Blank Book, but veteran Senate Clerk Tom Bateman told Finance Director James Maloon he felt Heer was the only Columbus printer equipped to produce legislative printing under a tight time schedule. The result was that the State Controlling Board suspended competitive bidding rules and awarded the contract to Heer.

Columbus Blank Book went to Common Pleas Court, which held the board abused its discretion. The court reversed the board and awarded the contract to Columbus Blank Book. The state appealed—and that is where the case rests now with the legislature needing printing service.

The case probably won't be argued before the appellate court before next Wednesday.

The House, in view of the emergency, shoved through a joint resolution authorizing the clerks of the two Houses to make emergency printing arrangements. The vote was 101-3.

Several hours later, both Republicans and Democrats caucused in the Senate—and nothing happened. The Senate reconvened after the caucus, then adjourned until today.

Those who know legislative business inside and out concede that the legislative wheels will grind to a halt in a matter of days unless the impasse is broken.

The Hearing Aid Industry Conference reports that almost one-fifth of the hearing impairments in men are caused by injury. The ratio is one in 25 among women. Exposure to industrial noise is cited as one of the major factors in the higher incidence among men.

Ohio Bell To Spend $87.7 Million in '63

CLEVELAND (AP)—A record-breaking $87.7 million will be spent by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. this year for expansion and improvements throughout the state. This was announced Monday by Frederick R. Eckley, president of the utility. He said $28 million, also an all-time high, is earmarked for projects in the Cleveland metropolitan area.

He gave no breakdown on expenditures planned in other areas. The company explained that they would be announced later in the communities involved.

Probate Court Handles 314 Cases in 1962

Pickaway County Probate Court's annual report today listed a total of 314 cases filed during the year.

More than half of the total cases listed were 156 estate matters, which included 81 applications to probate wills.

Thirty persons were committed to institutions as mentally ill by the court according to the report and 28 guardianships were processed during 1962.

Other cases handled by the Probate Court last year included:

Adoptions, 13; birth registrations, 35; authenticated wills, 5; mentally retarded, 3; authenticated real estate, 3; birth corrections, 18; trusts, 2; and no administration, 16.

The court also issued 206 marriage licenses in 1962.

Klumpff Case To Hinge on Court Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Outcome of a court hearing in Mary land and a recommendation from the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission may determine whether Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will take further action in the Edythe Klumpff murder case before he leaves office Monday.

The court hearing, in Rockville, Md., is scheduled Wednesday. It involves a bid by Ohio authorities to obtain a deposition from William Klumpff, former husband of the Cincinnati woman Mrs. Klumpff was convicted of murdering.

Mrs. Klumpff was sentenced in 1958 to die in the electric chair, but DiSalle commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. She claims Bergen did not tell the truth at her trial.

DiSalle told newsmen Monday he also is awaiting a recommendation from the Pardon and Parole Commission and will take no action on Mrs. Klumpff's pardon plea until the recommendation is in hand.

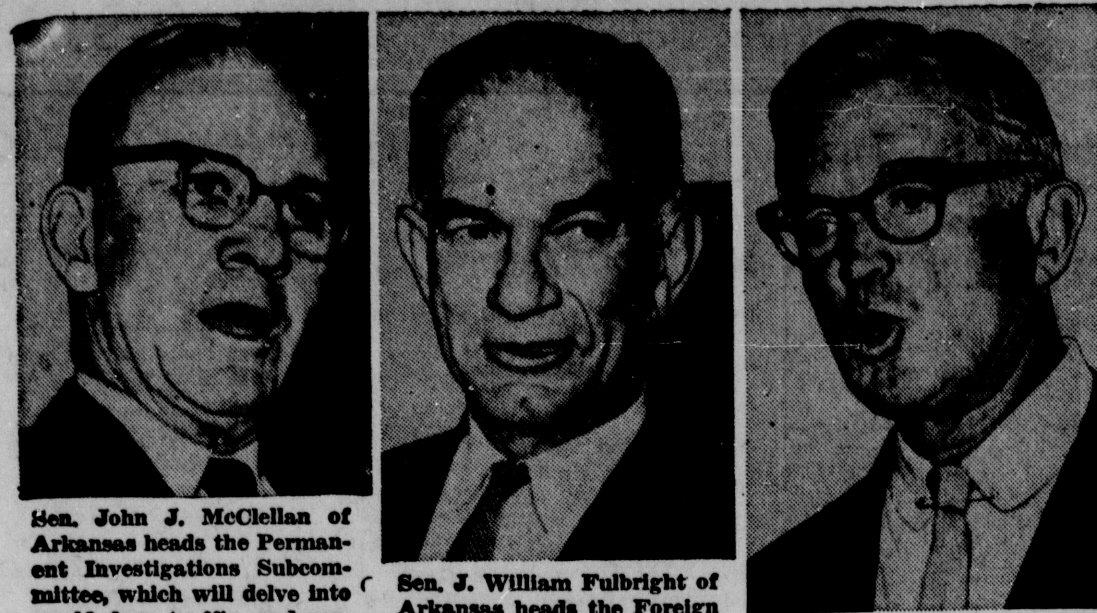

AP Writer Heads Legislative Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reed D. Smith, veteran Associated Press political writer, was elected today to a third term as president of the Ohio Legislative Correspondents Association. Terms are two years.

William F. Baird, head of Gongwer News Service, was re-elected vice president, and Howard R. Thompson of the Columbus Dispatch was re-elected treasurer.

Robert W. Burdick of the Columbus Scripps-Howard bureau, was elected secretary to succeed Richard Kirkpatrick of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who has transferred to Washington.

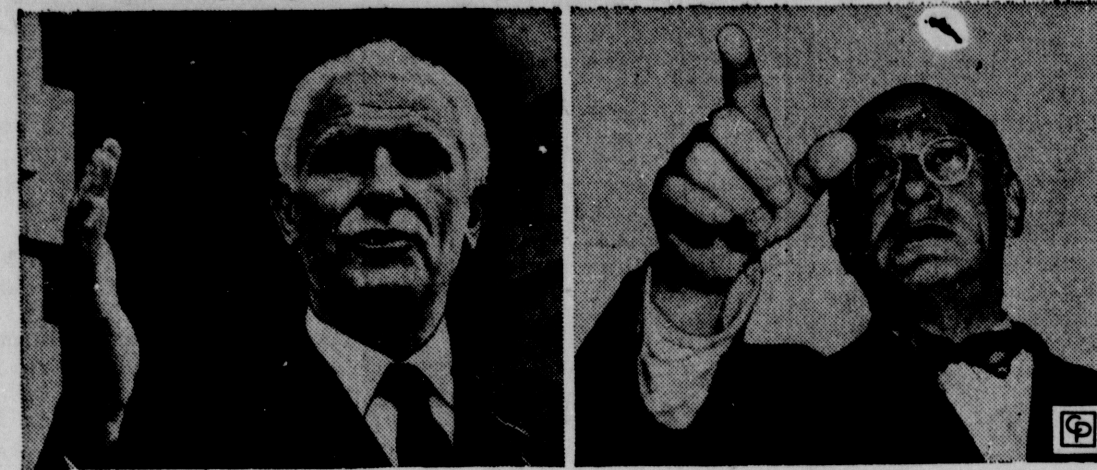

The Iowa legislature was the first to accept the Land-Grant College Act.

Sen. John J. McClellan of Arkansas heads the Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, which will delve into world dope traffic, and perhaps bribing of college athletes and awarding of a contract to General Dynamics for the F-111 fighter plane.

Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas heads the Foreign Relations Committee, which will try to expose foreign lobbyists who work against United States foreign policy.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri will continue the stockpile probe, involving alleged excessive profits.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut will have his Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee wind up probe of pep pill sales to teenagers, mail order sales of guns to teenagers.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York will conduct an inquiry into newspaper mergers, plus monopoly ownership by newspapers of radio and television broadcasting stations.

LOOK-SEES UPCOMING—The regular fatty diet of congressional investigations in the works includes these five. Last session the solons investigated $5 million worth, and, among other accomplishments, came up with tighter restrictions on drugs (the thalidomide tragedies), and a crackdown on bigtime gambling and gambling devices.

Mechanical Pencil Stabs 5-Year-Old

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Like most curious children of her age, 5-year-old Diana Cole reached up to grab a mechanical pencil from the kitchen table of her home in nearby Willowick. But the pencil stabbed into her chest.

The girl underwent successful surgery at Euclid-Glenview Hospital Sunday. She is listed in satisfactory condition today.

Doctors said the pencil cut into a main artery leading to her heart and missed the heart itself by only a half inch.
